Hearings On Soldier Bonus Bill To Start Monday

EXPECT TWO DAYS TO BE SUFFICIENT

Indications Point To House Considering Measure Before Security Bill

Decide To Open Hearings As Patman Attempts To Force Vote On His Bill

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(UP)—The house ways and means committee decided today to start hearings Monday on soldiers' bonus legislation under a plan which may result in house consideration of the administration-opposed measure late next week.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton said that he did not expect more than two days of hearings would be required and that it was possible that the house might consider the legislation ahead of the social security bill.

The decision came as Rep. Wright L. Patman was seeking to force a vote on his $2,015,000,000 inflation bonus bill by a discharge petition. The petition had approximately 140 names on it today, and 217 are necessary to force the measure to a house vote.

REFUSES TO TALK ON LINDY RUMORS

BOSTON, March 1.—(UP)—Baron Kurt Von Tippelskirch, German consul-general at Boston, today refused to confirm or deny a report that he had received information indicating that the Lindbergh kidnapping plot was hatched in a Boston hotel.

"The story does not come from me, and I have no statement to make," he told the United Press. "I neither deny nor affirm it."

The report, which appeared in the Boston Post, said the information was turned over to the consul-general by two men during a conference at his office yesterday.

The Post understood that the informant told Von Tippelskirch that at least four men were involved in the kidnapping, which was planned immediately after the death of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., with revenge as the motive.

EARTH SHOCKS FELT IN MID WEST STATES

Early Morning Temblors Do Little Damage; People Are Awakened

OMAHA, Neb., Mar. 1.—(UP)—An earthquake, the first felt in this section since 1931, shook parts of Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri early today.

The first shock was felt at 5 o'clock, and about four minutes later a second temblor shook the area. Persons were awakened, furniture moved and houses trembled under the movement of the earth but no damage was reported.

The area embraced by the quake extended east to around Des Moines, west as far as Grand Island, Neb., and southward to Topeka, Kan., and Kansas City, Mo. The heaviest temblors, apparently, followed the Missouri river, for the earth movements seemed most distinct in southeastern Nebraska and Northwestern Missouri.

Persons in hotel and large apartments felt the earth shocks as distinctly as residents in individual homes. At the Cornhusker hotel in Lincoln guests thought there had been an explosion.

The shocks were recorded on the seismograph at Drake university, Des Moines. There has never been a severe earthquake in this section since it was settled.

INTENSE SHOCK

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 1.—(UP)—Two earthquake shocks at about 5 a. m. today awakened scores of light sleepers here but otherwise did no damage. The first shock was the more intense.

Most of the persons who reported it to the local weather bureau said the sensation was similar to that caused when a heavy truck rumbles along the pavement.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 1.—(UP)—An earthquake shock was felt here at 5:03 a. m. today. It was followed a few seconds later by another. The shocks were intense enough to awaken sleeping persons but did no damage.

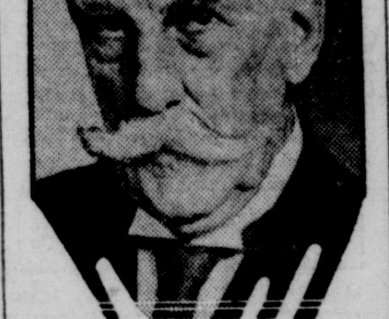

THREATENING NOTES ARE SENT TO JUDGE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 1.—(UP)—Anti-Communists were blamed by Communists today for sending threatening letters to Superior Judge Dal M. Lemmon, trying the case of 15 persons charged with criminal syndicalism.

Los Gallagher, chief defense attorney, insisted the reports of intimidating letters were false and that if any had been sent, anti-Communists or trouble makers were responsible.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Oliver Wendell Holmes, former justice of the United States Supreme Court, who is reported dangerously ill but holding his own against an attack of pneumonia.

HOLMES HOLDS OWN IN FIGHT ON PNEUMONIA

Former Justice Of Supreme Court Stricken At His Washington Home

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(UP)—Former Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the supreme court today appeared to be holding his own against a serious attack of pneumonia.

The aged justice was in bright humor despite his illness. He spent a comfortable night. His physician, Dr. Thomas A. Clayton, said Holmes' condition was unchanged.

Holmes ate a light breakfast of cereal. It was not indicated whether use was being made of oxygen tanks taken to the home. Clayton said no stimulants were being given the justice.

Friends and associates of Holmes made a constant pilgrimage to the little downtown Washington house.

LOS ANGELES, March 1.—(UP)—Trial of appellate Judge Gavin Craig, Mrs. Helen Werner and Joseph Weinblatt on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice was expected to close late today.

Defense counsel won a victory yesterday when Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer of Seattle forced the prosecution to elect whether to prosecute upon charges of bribery-conspiracy or alleged conspiracy to obstruct justice in the Italo Petroleum corporation mail fraud case.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Charles Carr chose to proceed with the obstruction charge and the bribery count was dismissed.

Final arguments were expected to be concluded today and Judge Neterer probably will address the jury in the afternoon, attorneys believed.

NEW LAWS TO PROTECT NEW DEAL

Congressional Cooperation In Attack On Rulings Of Court Promised

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(UP)—Bright on the New Deal horizon is assurance of congressional cooperation in a counter attack against federal court ruling that much of President Roosevelt's emergency legislation is unconstitutional. This is in contrast to congress's attitude toward other White House problems.

There is a note of honest conviction in assurances of administration lawyers that the Weirton Steel decision against labor's collective bargaining will not prevail.

Whether additional legislation would correct faults alleged in that guarantee to labor is not yet evident.

Legislative assistance for TVA has been discovered and is before congress. Federal Judge William I. Grubb held TVA distribution of power to be illegal. Sen. George W. Norris, R., Neb., and Rep. John Rankin, D., Miss., have offered a joint resolution to make more challenges of that nature hazardous and, therefore, less likely.

The Norris-Rankin resolution would require persons seeking to enjoin TVA to post bond to cover all losses and damage which might accrue by interruption of the development of the world's greatest publicly owned power source.

The authors contend most suits against TVA are filed merely to harass the government and without expectation that the complaints will win in the ultimate supreme court decision.

Legislation to close the court of claims to suits against the government for damages arising from abandonment of the gold standard is an obvious and obtainable defense of administration policies. It will be resorted to only if there is good reason to

MERRIAM BACKS UP STATE ROAD PLANS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 1.—(UP)—California taxpayers would be saved $16,000,000 biennially if all county roads were placed in the state highway system, Gov. Frank P. Merriam said in a statewide address defending his proposal that the state take over all roads.

"Careful study of the whole problem has convinced me," he said, "that the present gasoline tax is adequate to pay highway costs in California, provided the highways are consolidated under one central administration."

Under the present dual control system, county road taxes as well as the counties' share of the gas tax usually are necessary to provide sufficient funds for roads which handle only a small percentage of the traffic.

ROOSEVELT OPENS BABY BONDS SALE

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(UP)—President Roosevelt launched the government's "baby bond" sales campaign today by buying one of the new securities for each of his five grandchildren and one for himself.

Economy To Be Keynote Of Campaign

Drive Will Be Based On LeGaye's Resolution Rejected By Council

NOMINATING a complete slate of well known local citizens for the city council at the election April 8, the Santa Ana Taxpayers' league last night launched its campaign "to reclaim the city government from waste and extravagance" behind the candidacies of A. F. LeGaye, D. Jones Jr., John Hall, C. A. Harnois and Steele Finley.

The LeGaye economy resolution, twice rejected by the council, will be the basis of the campaign platform, it was announced. LeGaye, who recently resigned from the council because, as expressed at last night's meeting, he refused to be party to what he considered illegal actions by an "appointed" council, will be a candidate from the first ward for election to his old place, now occupied by Joseph P. Smith, an appointee.

D. Jones Jr., of the second ward, will seek the post now occupied by William Penn, also an appointee.

John Hall will be a candidate from the third ward to succeed Fred Rowland, likewise an appointee.

C. A. Harnois, of the fourth ward, will campaign for the council seat of Mayor E. G. Warner, the only elected member of the council, who will not be a candidate for re-election, having decided to run for the chief of police's office.

Steele Finley will be candidate from the fifth ward for the post of Plummer Burns, another appointee.

Former Candidates

Jones, Hall and Harnois are veterans of a former municipal campaign, having been council candidates on a recall ticket at an election several years ago. Finley is a prominent road contractor who has been in business here for 19 years. He is a brother of Col. S. H. Finley, former county supervisor and now secretary of the Metropolitan Water district.

Voting of the nominations, which were recommended by a committee consisting of J. W. McCormack, Frank Austin, Fred Vollmer, Charles E. Dixon and A. J. Smith, representing the five wards respectively, was accompanied by ovations to the candidates selected, as they accepted the nominations with brief statements.

The nominating committee had announced that its yardstick for the measurement of suitable candidates was the renowned LeGaye resolution, proposing that no public funds should be appropriated by the city council to private groups or organizations, and that appropriation should be made only for governmental functions and in such manner that the people could place responsibility.

As councilman, LeGaye had tried to pass the resolution.

MISTRIAL LOOMS IN LAMSON'S RETRIAL

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 1.—(UP)—An unprecedented legal tangle arising from the long-drawn task of selecting a jury today resulted in temporary adjournment of David Lamson's second trial on charges of murdering his wife, Allene Thorpe Lamson.

Superior Judge R. R. Syer recessed court until 2 p. m. today, to permit court attaches and opposing counsel to seek solution of the unusual situation.

Judge Syer admitted there is "grave possibility" that the trial may be forced into a mistrial by disclosure late yesterday that one juror impaneled under oath with 11 others was related by marriage to a member of the prosecution staff.

OHIO NEWSPAPERMAN ACQUIRES SUBSTANTIAL INTEREST IN SANTA ANA DAILY REGISTER

R. C. HOILES, of Mansfield, Ohio, has purchased a substantial interest in the Santa Ana Register and assumes business management of the paper, effective today, March 1. L. K. King becomes associate editor.

There are no other changes contemplated, either in the advertising, business or news departments, the editor said. Contrary to statements made in another paper, J. K. Evans will continue as advertising manager of The Register.

Hoiles is a newspaper man of many years experience, having been publisher of the Alliance Review, the Mansfield News and Lorain Times-Herald, all of Ohio. He purchased from J. F. Burke the Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum at the time Burke left Ohio for California. Hoiles still owns the Bucyrus paper. Recently he sold his other newspaper interests to the Brush-Moore syndicate, which owns papers at Canton, Marion, and other points in Ohio.

Besides his newspaper interests, Hoiles was substantially interested in many business enterprises and a director in a number of corporations. For a number of years while Hoiles was publishing the Times-Herald at Lorain, Ohio, J. F. Burke was publishing the Elyria Chronicle-Telegram in the same county.

Hoiles will move his family from Mansfield, Ohio, to Santa Ana, where he will make his future home. He has been a frequent visitor to California for the past few years, and has expressed himself as looking forward with pleasure to the time when he will make his home permanently here. His son, Clarence, who has the management of the Telegraph-Forum at Bucyrus, Ohio, is on his way West now. Hoiles, senior, will not be able to leave for a few weeks. J. F. Burke will be in charge of the editorial department with King associated with him.

PERSONAL STATEMENT BY J. F. BURKE

I desire to introduce R. C. Hoiles to the Register family readers. I have known Mr. Hoiles for many years and have recognized in him an able, keen business man, and a man of deep convictions.

We conducted daily newspapers in the same county, though not competing. We learned to know each other well. We disagreed in our policy upon many questions, both economic and social, but I never had reason to doubt Mr. Hoiles' integrity or sincerity, and the fact that he comes to California and associates himself with me, with a large investment of money, causes me to indulge the thought that he believes in mine.

Mr. Hoiles has not taken sudden action in this by any means. As long ago as last August, he and his son were here spending considerable time and negotiating concerning the matter, but left without the complete decision. Immediately after election, he opened the matter again and considerable correspondence ensued.

He returned in early January and entered into agreement on January 12, with the arrangement that the agreement should take effect March 1. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Hoiles, in the immediate family, Mr. Hoiles has several children of school age.

I am sure that they will be distinct additions to the business and social life of Santa Ana and Orange county.

JAPANESE PROTEST ALIEN LAND LAWS

TOKYO, March 1.—(UP)—Japanese patriots protested formally at the American embassy today against anti-Japanese movements in Arizona and California.

There was no demonstration as the delegation proceeded in orderly manner to the offices of U. S. Ambassador Joseph Clark Grew and departed as quietly after leaving their protest.

It was the third visit of patriotic organizations to the embassy since the outbreak of the Salt River Valley troubles in Arizona last year.

Since that abortive effort to oust Japanese from agricultural lands in the fruitful irrigated valley, legislatures in both Arizona and California have received bills which would place great restrictions on aliens' holding land in the two states.

HOPKINS DEFENDS WORK RELIEF BILL

CHICAGO, March 1.—(UP)—Expenditures for relief during the Hoover administration were "higher" than they ever had been before or have been since, Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins charged today.

Hopkins, commissioned to carry the Roosevelt administration's campaign for the $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill to the people, opened his drive with a vigorous defense of relief activities since the present administration took office.

"At that time," he said, "we were just getting out of the old Hoover days and relief expenditures were the highest in history only not very much was said about it."

HITLER SEES TRANSFER TO FATHERLAND

Entry of Reichsfuehrer Is Signal For Tumultuous Celebration In Germany

GOODWILL GESTURE

Unrestrained Thanksgiving And Joy, Tears, Cheers Greet Official Transfer

BULLETIN

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany, March 1.—(UP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, in a triumphant celebration of the return of the Saar with the Fatherland after 15 years of exile, voiced a hope tonight for peace and understanding in Europe.

Facing an exultant throng in front of the city hall Hitler extended the hand of friendship to Germany's ancient enemy, France.

"I believe that relations between Germany and France will definitely improve as a result of the plebiscite," he said.

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany, Mar. 1.—(UP)—The German Saar came back to Germany today. Four hours after its formal return, Adolf Hitler, living symbol of a revitalized Germany, arrived in Saarbruecken to lead his fellow countrymen, Germans again after 15 years of exile, in a joyous celebration.

Tears and cheers—the unmixed, unrestrained joy and thanksgiving—greeted the transfer of territory from 15 years of League of Nations rule. It reached its climactic moment with the entry of the Reichsfuehrer—the man who soon after the war announced in a Munich beer cellar that he was going to lead Germany back to equal fellowship in the concert of nations.

The return was marked by a gesture of good will and friendship toward France and Europe which bode well for immediate harmony in European nations.

Makes Transfer

Baron Leopold Auloid, chairman of the League of Nations Saar committee, formally handed over the 737 square miles of rich territory and sovereignty over its 815,500 people, to Wilhelm Frick, minister of interior in the German cabinet, at 9:37 a. m.

Frick immediately confirmed Joseph Buerckel, Nazi Saar commissioner for the territory during the last phase of League of Nations rule, as governor.

In his speech, accepting the Saar for Germany, Frick said:

"With pride and joy all Germany celebrates today. But it is important not only for Germany alone. It is written to a chapter in European history which for years past has burdened the relations of two great neighbor nations."

"The German government is convinced that with the solution of the Saar question an important step has been accomplished toward the improvement of the general European political situation."

Delivers Speech

In a speech immediately after ward inducing Buerckel, Frick said:

HAWKS FLIGHT IS CANCELED

FORT WORTH, Texas, Mar. 1.—(UP)—Cancellation of Capt. Frank Hawks flight to South America does not affect plans for the 18,000 miles air race there and back, Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, said today.

Young Roosevelt, technical consultant for the United States aeronautical chamber of commerce, is one of the promoters of the race.

4 DEFENDANTS DENY GUILT IN COURT TODAY

Ralph Swartzell, 25, of Anaheim, charged with manslaughter in connection with an automobile wreck that resulted fatally to Mrs. Una Kubias, 22, of Long Beach, and Walter G. Parker, 22, Santa Ana, charged with a statutory offense against Charlotte Valentine, 16, victim of a later illegal operation, were among defendants arraigned before Superior Judge James L. Allen today on the regular Friday criminal calendar.

Both pleaded not guilty and demanded jury trials. Swartzell's trial was set for March 11 at 10 a. m. in Judge G. K. Scovel's court. The trial of Parker was set for April 8 at 9:30 a. m. in Judge H. G. Ames' court.

Bert Stark, 31, of Orange, formerly of Santa Ana, pleaded not guilty to a charge of grand theft of $14 from C. E. Chilcoat. The alleged offense occurred January 21. Stark's trial was set for March 14 at 9:30 a. m. before Judge H. G. Ames.

Lester J. Keechler, charged with drunk driving February 15 on Ocean avenue west of Los Alamitos boulevard, pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for March 7 at 10 a. m. before Judge Allen. There will be no jury.

William E. Steiner pleaded guilty to drunk driving February 24 at Huntington Beach. His application for probation was set for hearing March 8.

Inhalator Squad Fights To Save Life Of Infant

Although Orange firemen worked for nearly 12 hours over the infant daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Messerall, 513 North Orange street, Orange, the baby passed away last night.

Mrs. Messerall gave birth to twins, a son and daughter, about noon yesterday. Firemen were called to give inhalator treatment for the little girl but she died about midnight.

WARM DISCUSSION FEATURES SESSION OF MUNICIPALITIES LEAGUE ON ROAD TRANSFER

Warm words at times tinged with sarcasm flowed freely last night in the Anaheim Elks clubhouse when members of the League of Orange County Municipalities met to hear a pro and con discussion on the controversial legislative proposal to turn county roads over to the state highway system.

State Director of Public Works Earl E. Kelly was scheduled to address the city officials and engineers last night, but he sent a substitute emissary, E. E. East, chief engineer of the Auto Club of Southern California, who staunchly supported the proposal as being more economical and efficient than the present county administration of county roads.

East denied the charge that turning over the county roads to the state would build up a powerful political machine and said that in any event, "one machine would not be worse than 58 machines," referring, apparently to county political machines. He indicated that supervisors are opposing the measure because of the fear of loss of political patronage. This was vigorously denied by Supervisor W. C. Jerome, who scoffed at the idea that Orange county would gain by turning its roads over to the state.

East asked to gain the support of cities in Orange county to the plan as outlined in Senate Bill 405 by telling them they would benefit more from gas tax refunds under the new proposal. He sought to allay the fears of counties that they would be discriminated against through centralization of highway powers in the state. He waded through a maze of figures designed to show that the state can build and build roads cheaper than counties. Jerome, in his talk which followed, said Orange county maintains its roads for $226 a mile, while it costs the state $547 a mile.

East said the cost for state maintenance roads amounts to one mill per vehicle mile, while the average county cost is five mills per vehicle mile. He claimed that the majority of people in the state favor the auto club plan, and asked that it not be confused with the administration plan for taking over the roads. He said later, however, that the administration plan probably will be identical with the auto club plan after it is amended. He said most objections to the plan were selfish.

C. Roy Browning, Irvine company engineer, spoke against the plan, declaring that it is difficult enough now to move agricultural equipment across state highways without adding more roads to the state system.

Showing of Hands
An interesting phase of the meeting came when Browning asked the large group present who were members of the Auto Club of Southern California to hold up their hands. Many hands shot into the air. Then Browning asked how many ever had been consulted on the auto club road. No hands went up.

Jerome, in his talk, warned his listeners to beware of promises and to judge the future by the past. He asked that the state be allowed to demonstrate efficiency and economy on the 6600 miles of roads they have taken into the system before trying more. He doubted that the state could raise enough money to carry out their program even with the proposed increase of one cent in the gas tax. He warned against the cost and dangers of centralizing governmental functions away from home.

In a brief talk, County Assessor

NEW ROBINSON FILM NOW AT WEST COAST

An entirely new Edward G. Robinson will be seen by moving picture fans in his latest starring vehicle, "The Whole Town's Talking," rated as one of the 10 best pictures of the year by critics, when the picture shows for the first time tonight at the West Coast theater.

Robinson plays the part of a male "church mouse" who finds himself the center of attraction when it is discovered that he is the double for Public Enemy No. 1. When the gangster comes to town Robinson is arrested. The mistake is discovered and the district attorney gives Robinson a pass so he will not be molested. The gangster meets Robinson, forces him to give up the pass and to stay out of sight at night, and then things start to happen. Jean Arthur, Arthur Byron, Wallace Ford, Arthur Hohl and Donald Meek are featured players.

The program of short subjects includes a new Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Til For Tat," a color cartoon, "Song of the Birds," and World News events.

Third Member of Mediation Body Not Yet Selected

Uncertainty existed today concerning the scheduled meeting tomorrow afternoon of an arbitration board to deal with wage scales and other matters confronting Japanese vegetable growers and Mexican workers of Orange county.

S. H. Strathman, of Placentia, representing the growers and the Rev. Graham Hunter, of Fullerton, have failed to agree on a third member of the board, although several men have been suggested by both factions, it was learned.

Under an agreement signed last Saturday, if a third member of the board is not appointed this week, a man will be selected by Towne Nylander, director of the Regional Labor Board in Los Angeles. In the meantime, the Mexican workers are at work in the fields and all strike activities have ceased, it was reported reliably.

FOUR TIMES AS MUCH BUILDING AS YEAR AGO

New records in building activities for the month of February were revealed in a report made public today by Building Inspector S. I. Reble, which showed that valuations this year were four times higher than for last year.

In the month just completed, 45 building permits totaling $66,541 were issued, as compared to $17,075 in 1934, $15,908 in 1933 and $65,462 in 1932.

For the two-month period of January and February, there were 105 permits for $93,687 in 1935; 117 permits for $32,462 in 1934; 73 permits for $31,287 in 1933 and 77 permits for $125,669 in 1932.

RAMONA PAGEANT OPENS APRIL 27

HEMET, March 1.—Dates for the twelfth annual Ramona Pageant were officially announced today by M. S. Glasser of San Jacinto, president of the Hemet-San Jacinto community organization responsible for the spectacular outdoor production. The play will be presented in the famous Ramona Bowl near Hemet Saturday and Sunday afternoons, April 27 and 28 and May 4 and 5 and 11 and 12.

The cast of more than 200 players, including widely known professionals of the stage and screen, is now being assembled. Rehearsals will start within a week.

This colorful play is a dramatization of Helen Hunt Jackson's early California novel of the same name.

According to Glasser, it is to perpetuate the color and romance and history of this story and of old California that the people of Hemet and San Jacinto each year produce the Ramona play on the very ground that the immortal Indian maiden, Ramona, and her lover, Alessandro, trod more than half a century ago.

CURRENCY STOLEN

Currency totaling $25 was stolen last night from the cash register in the grocery store of C. F. Reed, 202 South Flower street, by a thief who removed a screen to gain entrance.

As far as could be determined by Reed and police, nothing else of value was taken.

SPOKANE YOUTHS HELD FOR TRIAL

Remanded yesterday to the juvenile court on burglary charges, the three Spokane youths arrested in San Clemente early Wednesday are being held in the juvenile tank of the county jail.

The boys were taken before Judge John Landell of San Juan Capistrano for their arraignment yesterday, although arrangements had been completed for their appearance in the Santa Ana justice court because of the illness of Judge Landell. Two of the boys were 16 years of age and the third was 17.

Among alleged stolen goods found in the stolen car driven by the boys were 22 automatic revolvers, 2 rifles, 5 hunting knives, 3 blackjacks, brass knuckles, and nearly 20,000 rounds of ammunition.

OFFICER AND BRIDE TAKEN FOR "RIDE"

Ben Craig and his new wife, the former Miss Juliette Abion, 1514 North Durant street, were "taken for a ride" today.

Fellow officers of Craig surprised the couple this morning and gave them a joyride on a truck, after Craig had been imprisoned in leg irons and handcuffs and the bride was "kidnaped" from her work in the SERRA offices and handcuffed to her husband on top of the truck.

The cavalcade of state motorcycles and cars escorted the truck through the business district with sirens and horns screaming.

Craig and Miss Abion were married in Yuma several days ago and will make their home at 1322 North Parton street.

Court Notes

Raymond Osborne, charged with failure to register his automobile, was committed to the county jail for 30 days after pleading guilty in the Santa Ana justice court yesterday.

Jesse Kaffan paid a $5 speeding fine in police court yesterday.

Alfred Olivas pleaded guilty to a drunkenness charge and promised to pay a $15 fine at a later date in police court yesterday.

Maria Castilla, 2028 West Fifth street, charged with battery, pleaded not guilty in police court yesterday and will have a trial on March 5 at 2 p. m. She was released without bond. The complaint was signed by Disideria Carlos, 2018 West Fifth street, who alleged she was struck by a brick thrown by the other woman.

A jury in Superior Judge H. G. Ames court late yesterday acquitted Herbert L. Hanson, eastern visitor in Santa Ana, of a charge of drunk-driving. Santa Ana police had arrested Hanson on West Fourth street on the evening of February 3.

Charging failure to provide, Mrs. Genevieve Aguiar, who had separated from her husband, Louis Aguiar, on their thirteenth wedding anniversary, today filed suit in superior court for divorce. They married at El Paso, Texas, May 20, 1920, and separated May 20, 1933.

ANTHOLOGY OF COLLEGE VERSE TO BE ISSUED

The eighth edition of "First the Blade," anthology which contains poetry written by college and university students throughout the state of California, will be published May 1, 1935, in the Santa Ana Junior College Fine Arts press, under the supervision of the Tavern Tatlers, Jaycee literary club, it was announced today by Miss Eleanor Walter, editor of the publication and president of the student organization.

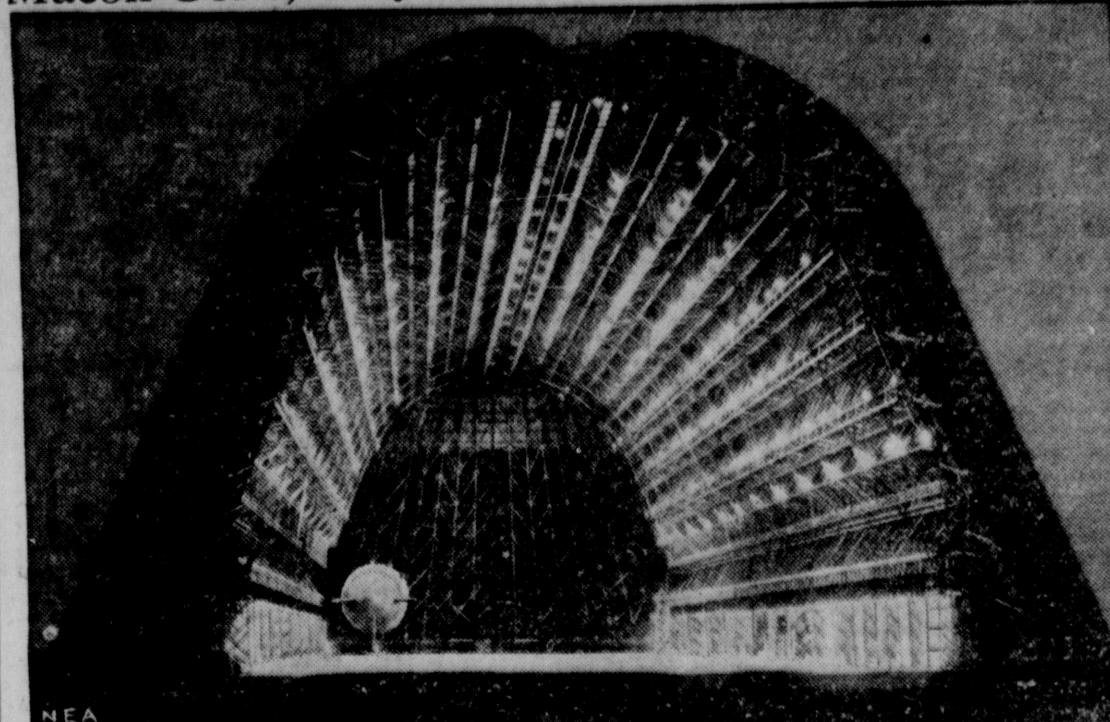

Only 300 copies of the 164-page book will be published, according to C. Reed Sutherland, manager of the publishing work, of which 75 already have been ordered. At present 40 students have made contributions throughout the state. In addition to Sutherland and Miss Walter, those connected with the work are Thomas E. Williams, director of printing at the junior college, and Thomas H. Glenn, English department head and advisor of the Tavern Tatlers, who will act as faculty adviser for publication of the anthology.

Tentative plans for prizes have been arranged, in which $15 will be awarded for the best poem and $10 for the second best. Also the Tavern Tatlers will give $5 for the best sonnet. Then $5 will be awarded the student writing the best poem on a California historical theme, $5 for the best poem on some phase of modern technological civilization, this prize being offered by Miss Rachel Campbell of San Diego, and $5 for the best free verse contribution.

Institutions that have published "First the Blade" in the previous seven years are, from 1927 to 1934 inclusive, Fullerton Junior college, the University of Redlands, Scripps college, San Bernardino Junior college, San Diego Teacher's college, and Los Angeles Junior college.

Macon Gone; Tiny Blimp Occupies Giant Hangar

RETAILER SUES WHOLESALE LIQUOR DEALER; CHARGES FAILURE TO KEEP PROMISE

Suit for $6300 damages was filed late yesterday in superior court against Carl R. Edgar, of Santa Ana, a wholesale liquor dealer, by Velma Cleveland, of Fullerton, who claims Edgar agreed to finance her in operation of a highway "tavern" where his liquor would be sold, and then went back on his promise.

In her complaint, filed through Attorneys West and McKinney, of Santa Ana, the plaintiff said she was induced by Edgar to leave her $35-a-week employment with the Quality Fruit company, of Fullerton, to operate the El Hi Tavern on the Coast highway, four miles south of Laguna Beach. Edgar explained to her, she said, that he was desirous of having the place open and running rather than closed, because it had theretofore handled his liquor products.

He agreed to provide funds to purchase the stock on hand and additional stocks needed, she alleges; also to pay deposits necessary for gas, lights and other operating funds, particularly during the fall and winter months when business would be more slack; including rental of the premises.

If she failed to make a profit, he agreed to pay her $500 at the end of the year as compensation for her efforts, she claimed. If she made profits, she was to repay him funds advanced to her, and he would not pay her the $500, she says it was agreed.

She took over management of the tavern about September 5, 1934, she states, and Edgar advanced her $100 for necessary stocks, telling her to let the public utility service connections

CHURCH TO HOLD PRE-LENTEN SOCIAL

A pre-lenten home cooked dinner under the auspices of the Ladies Altar society of St. Anne's church will be given tomorrow from 5 to 8 p. m. in the Ebell clubhouse, 625 French street, it was learned from J. Ogden Markel, who is assisting with the arrangements.

The general public is invited and special prices will be in effect for children, it was learned. This is the last social event before Lent and committees appointed by Father Thomas Butler of the church have provided a program of entertainment and music for the affair. Prizes will be given to the winners of several contests held recently in the church, it was announced.

POST-GRADS AT J. C. ELECT OFFICERS

Gene Erbentraut was elected president of the junior college post-graduate class, succeeding Ray St. Clair, at an election held Wednesday. Other officers elected are Sammy Tucker, vice president; Jeanne Lelva, secretary; Reed Sutherland, treasurer, and Stewart Fletcher and Evelyn Richardson, class directors.

Erbentraut, who graduated in '34, is president of the Junior Lions and a member of the Orphan Kiddles' club. He was a post-graduate class director last semester.

FORMER POST COMMANDERS OF LEGION FETED

Post commanders of the American Legion of Santa Ana occupied the spotlight at a meeting of Post 131 last night in Veterans' hall, when the program was sponsored by the former leaders.

Following a short business session, Commander Bert Casteix turned the meeting over to Charles Swanner who later introduced Otto Jacobs, master of ceremonies for the evening. Included in the entertainment was a skit by the Santa Ana Community Players, singing and dancing by three Negro entertainers, and song and dance numbers by several of the past commanders.

Announcement was made of a visit here next Wednesday of State Commander Archie Closson, who will deliver a series of talks throughout the county. His Santa Ana address will be given about 8 p. m. and the meeting will be open to the public.

Among the past commanders joining in the program last night were Dr. John Wehrly, Maurice Enderle, Judge G. K. Sevel, Franklin Grouard, Franklin West, Otto Jacobs, Charles Van Wyk, Hunter Leach, William Penn, Rodney Bacon, Charles Swanner, Wilbur Getty, Col. M. B. Wellington and Jules Markel, past commander. Judge James Tucker, unable to be present because of illness, had a letter read before the meeting.

POLLYANA APPAREL SHOP OPENS HERE

An exterior view of the attractive new women's apparel shop, the Pollyana, which will swing its doors open to the public for the first time tomorrow is shown below. Completely remodelled on both the exterior and interior, Santa Ana's newest shop for women is operated by Max Solomon, who promises to bring to Orange County women the same styles and prices which are found in his Los Angeles and Hollywood shops.

NEW WOMEN'S SHOP TO OPEN ON SATURDAY

Bringing to Orange County women the exclusive styles of the famous Hollywood creator of styles, "Phiffer," Santa Ana's newest shop for women, the Pollyana, will hold a grand opening tomorrow at 203 West Fourth street.

Completely remodelled both as to interior and exterior, the new fashion shop will present a most attractive appearance when it opens its doors for the first time tomorrow.

Max M. Solomon, proprietor of the new store, will be on hand with a staff of experienced salesgirls to greet visitors and customers tomorrow. Solomon urged all women of the county to visit the new store and to inspect the large stocks of new merchandise, with no feeling that they will be asked to buy.

Solomon said the Santa Ana store will bring to Orange County women the same styles, quality of merchandise and prices that are available in the smart Pollyana shops of Los Angeles and Hollywood. There will be no need in the future for women to go out of town to do their shopping, he said, because they can not only save transportation money, but can buy on equal terms with the metropolitan shopper.

Gowns of all types, sportswear and a complete line of millinery will be featured at the store, which also has an entrance at 404 North Sycamore street. Hosiery, suits, coats and dresses of every kind to suit every occasion will be sold at the store.

Living models will be used tomorrow to display the new creations at the Pollyana.

Solomon announced a store policy which will be to refund money to any purchaser who is not fully satisfied.

Of all nations, France has the most old people, while Russia has the most children.

Forum To Meet Monday Evening

ORANGE, March 1.—Mrs. Mona Summers Smith of the Santa Ana public library staff, will read a play at the meeting of the Young Women's Forum Monday evening in the home of Miss Mildred Watson, 273 North Harwood street. Miss Eleanor Herrington is program chairman.

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, March 1.—Leaving Wednesday for Glendale, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Rogers and son are to establish residence there during a course of post-graduate work which Dr. Rogers will take in Los Angeles. Dr. H. C. Neslund is to spend a portion of his time at Dr. Rogers' office on Lincoln boulevard, in addition to maintaining his offices on North Los Angeles street, in Anaheim.

A meeting in the interests of the Townsend pension plan is scheduled for Friday evening in the La Rue building.

DRIVER HURT WHILE REPAIRING TRUCK

Struck by a car while repairing his truck on the highway near San Juan Capistrano, Joseph Borcillari, 29, Los Angeles, was seriously injured last night and is confined in the Santa Ana Valley hospital. No report of the accident has been made to traffic authorities but it is reported that the driver of the car stopped and gave aid to the truck driver. The injured man will recover but will remain in the hospital for several days, it was learned.

Stanton Burglary Believed Solved As Arrest Made

With the arrest of Paul Yoshigima in Los Angeles, sheriff's officers announced today that the burglary of a Japanese bunkhouse in Stanton on January 31 had been cleared up and part of the loot stolen from M. Nakano had been recovered.

Yoshigima admitted to Deputy R. E. Steinberger yesterday that he had broken a window in the bunkhouse and stolen a suitcase and personal effects of Nakano, according to police reports. The suitcase was sold to John Klenm of R. D. 1, Anaheim, and was recovered yesterday by Steinberger. Other stolen articles were given away or lost in Los Angeles.

The defendant was arrested by Los Angeles police on February 18 for petty theft with prior conviction, and is awaiting trial on that charge. He was sent to San Quentin for grand theft in 1930 and was committed to Folsom in 1932 on a similar charge. He had been out of prison only three weeks when he burglarized the bunkhouse. His prosecution here will be delayed until after his trial in Los Angeles, it was learned.

State Park Camp

The camp orchestra, Los Reyes de Melodia, (The Melody Kings) recently made a trip of entertainment sponsored by Leonard Pease, Department of Interior employee, and performing at social functions. The performers were Kenneth McDonald, master of ceremonies and vocalist, whose singing thrilled the radio public. Kermit Tyler, piano; Freddy Ray, violin; Tom Owen, trumpet; Joe Wasserman, saxophone; Charles Pilgrim, guitar, and Allison Cleave, drums.

The erection of the blacksmith and tool shop has been completed and it is now ready for the plastering. The work was done under the direction of E. R. Bartlett, foreman, and assistant leader George Deltour. The building rests on a concrete foundation and has been constructed of 2774 adobe bricks, size 4x12x18 inches, and nine yards of adobe mud for laying mortar. The same crew who built this shop has almost finished the gas station and will start work on the park rest rooms.

Under the supervision of J. A. Thompson, foreman, and leaders E. B. Johnson, and P. G. Smith, work on Project 12B, the road to the beach, is progressing very nicely. The men are through the heaviest cut and have moved 1782 truck loads of dirt, one and a half yards to a load. The dirt from this road is being used for Project 13, landscaping.

Politically Speaking

BY GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, March 1.—(UP)—Breath of promise and alienation of affection suits may become "shakedown" of the past in California if the legislature and Governor Frank F. Merriam act favorably on a bill by Assemblyman Paul A. Richie.

Swinging in line with what appears to be a nationwide movement, Richie's bill would eliminate alienation and breach of promise charges as causes of action in court. The assemblyman characterizes them as little more than rackets aiding unscrupulous women and blackmailers.

The bill was introduced during the January rush and little comment was heard concerning it. There was no indication which way the legislature would turn, or whether the governor would approve such a measure, but there was no doubt it would attract wide attention and cause considerable floor debate.

Similar bills have been introduced in the New York and Indiana legislatures, and some prominent, much-divorced women have added their support to the movement on the ground that most suits are dishonest and without real justification. Abolishment of the "heart balm racket" would win the unanimous support of males if the question were put to a popular vote, supporters of the Richie bill believe.

A general spirit expressed in several bills seems to be: "Remove the obstacles from marriage and divorce; let couples marry and divorce at will, without the necessity of delays and lengthy court sessions."

If some of these measures were adopted, Reno and Las Vegas would lose much of their divorce business.

For example, Richie introduced a bill providing that the mere fact a man and wife wished to be divorced would be sufficient cause for the action. The judge would be required to grant the decree and the divorce would be final immediately. Either party could remarry as quickly as physically possible, instead of waiting during the one-year interlocutory period.

Other bills would reduce the after-divorce waiting period from a year to one month (Assemblyman Ralph W. Wallace), or three months (Assemblyman Kent H. Redwine).

Observers believed the bill abolishing alienation of affection and breach of promise suits stood a good chance of passing, and repeal of the gin marriage law appeared to have a strong following, but they were dubious about the liberalized divorce laws which would remove barriers from the road to separation.

An intensive legislative fight will center on proposals to tax natural resources and levy processing taxes.

An administration severance and processing tax bill would levy a uniform rate of one per cent on all products removed from the land or water of California. Other bills would scale the rate upward, particularly for heavy producing oil wells.

Gold miners and timber interests have organized lobbies to combat the severance tax. Sardine fisheries are ready to fight the processing tax. Oil producers have remained quiet. They would prefer the administration tax of one per cent to the democratic tax of 10 per cent, and since it appears certain that some kind of severance tax will be adopted, the oil people will almost enjoy seeing the general one per cent levy go into effect.

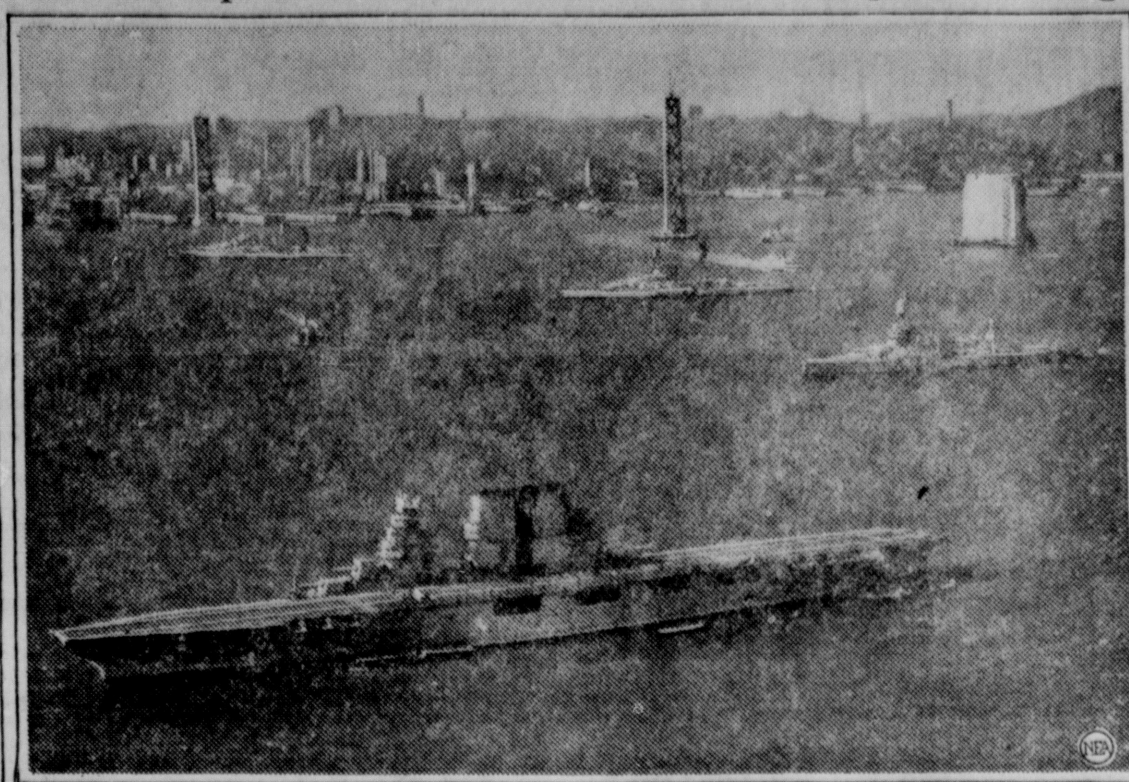

"When it comes to the allocation of sources of income, there is a decided difference of opinion," Merriam said after returning from Southern California. "The most criticism comes from people who think they should pay no tax at all."

"My program is no mushroom idea. I presented it after four years of study. I intend to fight for it unless something better is advanced."

The capitol will be overrun by lobbyists next week, since many interests are affected by the hundreds of bills touching almost every subject known to legislation.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934, this country collected $2,672,239,100 in federal revenue. Alcoholic drinks brought in $258,911,300, of which beer was responsible for $163,370,000 alone.

Fleet Drops in to See How Frisco Bridge Is Rising

Teeming with activity is San Francisco Bay, with the battle fleet in and work being rushed on the 23,000-foot San Francisco-Oakland bridge. This striking air photo shows how far contractors have advanced on the bridge piers and some of the capital ships anchored nearby. In the foreground is the plane carrier Saratoga. Toward San Francisco, stretching into the background, left to right, are the battleships Texas, New York, and Oklahoma.

ENCOURAGEMENT

The best balanced business picture since the depression started is presented by the chart this month of official government figures. Industry has surged forward steadily since last September. During the last six days it has maintained the level of about 80 per cent of normal operations. This has brought factory employment up to 81 per cent of normal and wages to 87 per cent, leaving wages, however, still somewhat out of line.

Business has remained about the same during this five-month industrial surge, operating at about 75 per cent of normal. The railroads are still lagging around 45 per cent of normal, but are showing improvement. The general price level has been mounting for five months, but only because prices affected by the drought are soaring temporarily. Other prices have not shown much change.

This you may see by a glance at the following chart. It contains figures compiled by various government and private agencies, brought up to date by expert private estimates for February.

Each figure (except prices) is based on the 1922-25 average as 100. All figures except payroll are adjusted for seasonal variations so that they accurately reflect where we stand without regard to seasonal trends.

Year	Indus. Prod.	Factory Empl.	Payroll	Wholesale Sales	Rail Freight	Ship. Tons	Cons. Sales
1929 Average	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
1930 Average	84	82	82	82	82	82	82
1931 Average	71	71	71	71	71	71	71
1932 Average	64	64	64	64	64	64	64
1933 January	82	82	82	82	82	82	82
February	83	83	83	83	83	83	83
March	84	84	84	84	84	84	84
1934 January	85	85	85	85	85	85	85
February	86	86	86	86	86	86	86
March	87	87	87	87	87	87	87
1935 January	88	88	88	88	88	88	88
February	89	89	89	89	89	89	89
March	90	90	90	90	90	90	90

SHADOWS

Behind this bright picture is the fact that certain industrial lines have been making up slightly during the last two weeks of February. This is particularly noticeable in steel, but not in industry generally.

At the same time there has been a renewal of private talk among business men that the country is in the middle of the road. The time it is based on congress. The deficiencies of NRA recognition, the latest bank bill, the rail bill, the holding company legislation and the possibility of further tax proposals are more justified, but it exists.

Whether it will have any important effect on March and April business involves a guess on which competent observers are divided.

FACTORS

The reason steel dropped was because automobile production is slowing off. There is no doubt that the best example of why it is difficult to gauge the immediate production of industry.

Steel production reached a maximum of 25 per cent three weeks ago, but it will soon be back around 45 per cent. Automobile production, increased by fewer than 500 cars for the week ended Feb. 27. Yet those inside the automobile trade will tell you that production for the first quarter of the year will be around a million. It was 900,000 for January, probably 1,000,000 for February and need be only 1,100,000 for March to approximate a million for the quarter.

After that, motor car output will be entirely on order. No one can hazard even a good guess as to what this will be.

HINTS

The best indication that industry generally is holding up well lies in electric power consumption data. It has varied less than half a point during the last four weeks. Another hint of underlying strength is the continuing figure, which has been showing slightly more than seasonal improvement lately.

BUILDING

The almost hopeless factor in building. After the first brief flush of F.W.A. activity a year ago, building has failed to show any thing but slight occasional flurries, which never developed into a trend. The latest favorable flurry is in residential building. January contracts were up to $22,000,000, a 10 per cent improvement over December. The amount of concrete poured in the country was about one-third of last year's volume in that month last year. There will be hope for building after the pending work relief bill passes, but not before.

PRICES

The prices of only three commodities are relatively higher than last month. That is, only the prices of building materials, hides-skins, and metals are nearer the 1922 level and food prices are still going up. The food price level for the Jan. 12 week was 73.7 and by the Feb. 18 week it was up to 81.1 in the official figures. But, for the same weeks, all other prices actually decreased slightly, from 71 to 72.1, all of which indicates that there is no real commodity do.

SLIPPING

New York is holding its breath over the outcome of the current up-of-war between F.D.R. and Congress. Not even the old decision, supposed to be a neutral, mediated private debate in financial circles as the Senate revolt on pending wages.

The informed contend that one of the dominant factors behind the Senate is the Senate's desire to reassert its importance. "The Senate is never happy when the White House is getting all the headlines. The boys tested blood when they liked the World court, and now they won't be satisfied until they've pressed to the limit and found out whether the voice is like their independence or still want to take orders. Once the Senate breaks the chains that have bound it to the White House

ORANGE COUNTY'S GREATEST MARKET

And Four Beat Death by Miracle

Grain evidence of an unusual motorcar pile in which four persons miraculously escaped serious injury is shown here, with the auto plowed from front to back by a huge pole, which lanced through the windshield and demolished the steering wheel as the driver crashed his car into a parked truck loaded with poles near Worthington, Minn.

Here are a few other trifles: The Bankhead billion-dollar corporation to finance tenant purchase of farms; $1,500,000,000 House Owners' Loan adventure to be guaranteed by the government; a $400,000,000 (tax on industry) for unemployment insurance (which would multiply with the passing year); and the Roosevelt plan for international credit banks, which would have the right to issue a billion in the future—also to be fully guaranteed by Uncle Sam.

Tot these up and they come to almost $2,000,000,000—a goodly sum any way you look at it. It's true that a large share of these projected liabilities are only contingent—but try to comfort conservatives with that!

PRESIDENT

Western Pacific's recently announced financial woes were no shock to Wall Street. Insiders have seen them coming for a long time.

The most important point about the development is that a major railroad is taking the reorganization plunge—and its background is such that no one will get unduly excited. This establishes a useful and comparatively unexcited precedent for other railroads needing reorganizations which will make their own reorganizations less discouraging.

PREFERABLE

The New York firm of Eastman Dillon was one of the most successful from 1922-30. When the late John P. was calling matters with uncanny accuracy. Now its membership is being changed to give more weight to bond dealing and underwriting and less to the brokerage business.

Under the supervision of the new membership, it may be preferable to straighten things out—but that's the least of it. It is more preferable to hang in.

SIDELIGHTS

A number of small factories are buying Diesel equipment to substitute for electric power. . . . As if the utilities didn't have enough to worry about already, Orders for $25,000 tons of rails have recently been placed with P.W.A. assistance. . . . Comment runs that the steel companies should at least make a polite how to Mr. Dies.

LAGUNA BEACH, March 1.—An inquest into the death of Alvin Roy Burns, 49, 523 Through street, who died Wednesday from traffic accident injuries received on February 14, was held this afternoon from the Laguna Beach Funeral home by Coroner Earl Abbey.

Funeral services for Burns will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Laguna Beach funeral home.

Burns, who came to Laguna from Santa Ana about 15 years ago, had been a representative of the Southern California Edison company for 25 years.

Members of the Lions club, of which he was a member, held a memorial service for him at a meeting last night. After the singing of Burns' favorite song, a eulogy was given by George E. Thompson, past president of the club. Victor Rankin then sang "My Buddy," accompanied by Dan Grant.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Ethel N. Burns, a son, Curtis Burns, a daughter, Marjorie Burns, and a sister, Mrs. R. McDonald, all of Laguna Beach.

State Commander Of Legion Slated To Speak March 6

CLACKSBURG, March 1.—Archibald Hession, state commander of the American Legion, will pay a visit to the La Habra post next Wednesday evening. On this occasion the local Legion post members have invited as their guests the La Habra Kiwanis club.

The affair in honor of the state commander will open with a 6:30 o'clock dinner at Memorial hall in La Habra. Commander Hession will address the group during the evening.

World-Wide News Events Told In Pictures

Testifies He Was Paid for Murder

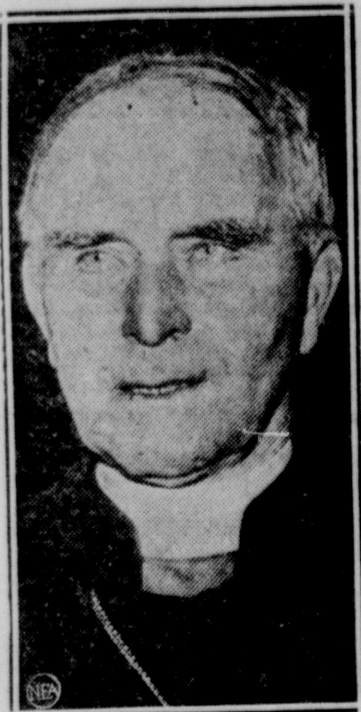

A Chicago hoodlum who grinned as he told of taking a $25,000 contract to "rub out a guy" and "sublet" the job to another hoodlum, paying him $3000 to do the killing, Walter Murphy, above, named Irving Weisman, wealthy bakery chain owner, as the man who hired him, at the trial of Weisman for the murder of Eli Daiches, Chicago advertising executive. Murphy admitted he hoped to escape the chair by his testimony.

Dictating by Remote Control

It seems that no matter how far he gets from Louisiana, Louisiana matters pursue Senator Huey Long. Here he is pictured in New York City conferring with James A. Noe, Louisiana legislator and chairman of the state vice investigation committee.

Cardinal MacRory on Way to Rome

Enroute to Rome from the recent Eucharistic Congress in Melbourne, Australia, where he was the Papal Legate, Joseph Cardinal MacRory (above), primate of Ireland, visited briefly in New York during a stopover. At welcoming services he bestowed the papal blessing on all in St. Patrick's Cathedral.

'Not Afraid of Yanks,' Says Joe

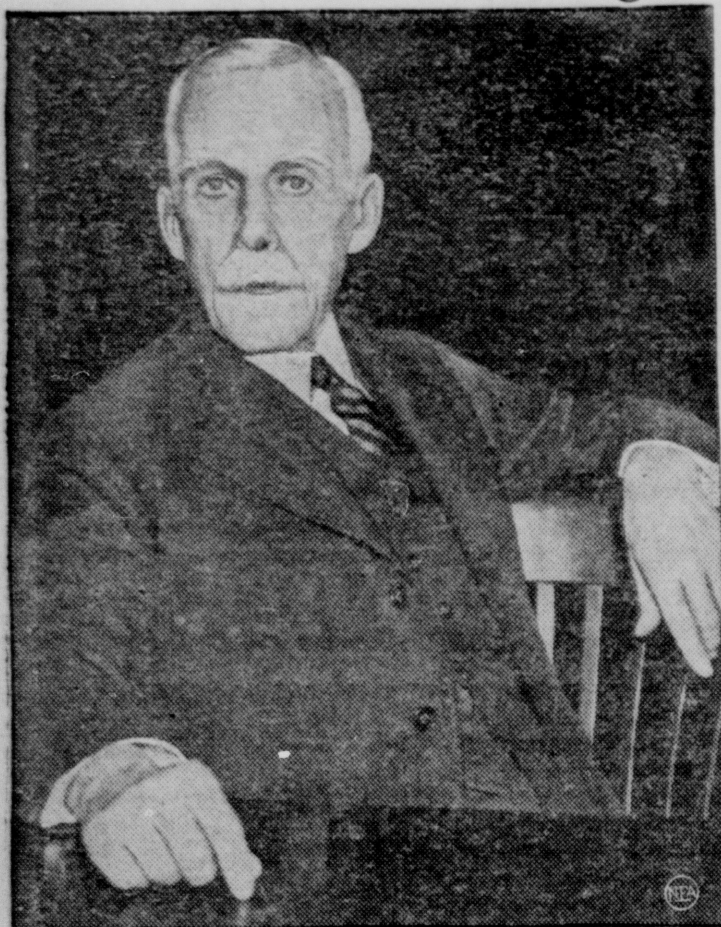

Joe Cronin, young San Franciscan who rose to be playing manager of the Washington Senators, marry Clark Griffith's daughter, and then be sold to the Boston Americans for $125,000—a fancy price even for a player-manager—started rebuilding his club from within this year. Here we have Cronin in a dental chair at San Francisco, while Dr. John J. Daley works out a new lineup for the Cronin molars.

Tappety-Taps Into Movies

One kind of taps most of us will enjoy hearing is the kind rattled out by the lively feet of Eleanor Powell, at right. She's made quite a name for herself on the stage as probably the country's premiere tap dancer. Now the movies have her signed up to show her stuff to the larger film audiences. She's breaking in six pairs of shoes to show you what a clatter she can make in her first picture.

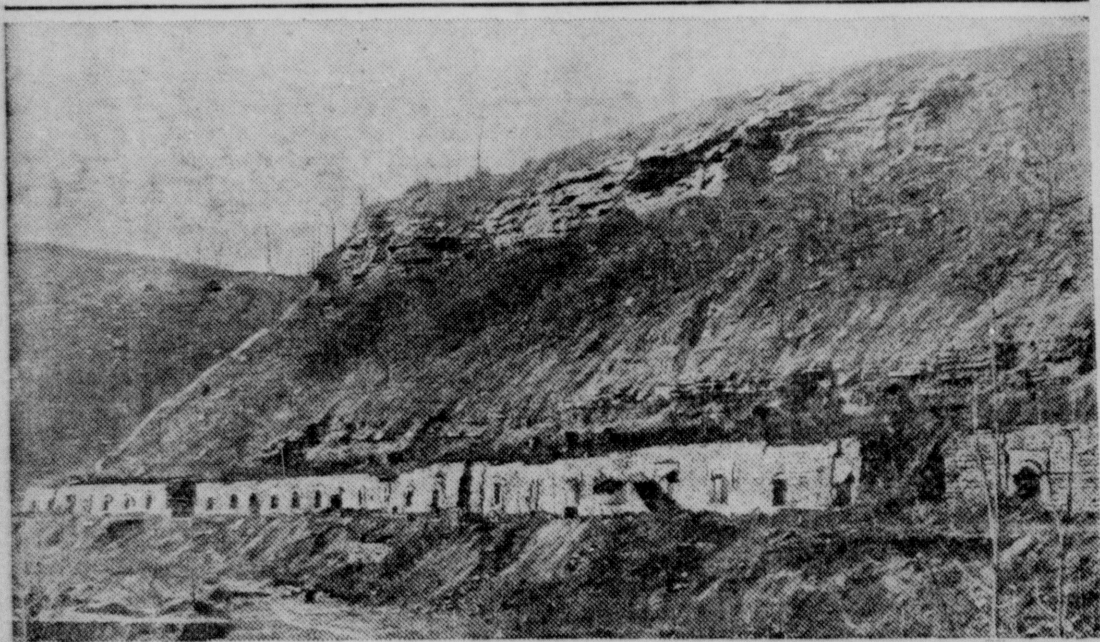

Mellon Confident in Tax Fight

Facing the test "with pleasure," certain that he "will be cleared finally and for all of a campaign of vilification," Andrew W. Mellon is shown here as he sat at his attorneys' table at the hearing of his income tax case before the board of tax appeals in Pittsburgh. The government is suing the ex-treasury secretary for $3,000,000, claiming that amount due from 1931.

Jobless Miners 'Cave Dwellers'; Plight Stirs Protest

Back to the cave dwellers of the dawn of history have gone some 500 of the jobless miners and steel workers of Fayette county, Pa. At top, dug into the hillside at Champion, near Brownsville, Pa., is a row of abandoned coke ovens in which many jobless have been living. Below are three jobless miners before their "cave dwellings" at Dunbar, near Connellsville, Pa. A delegation went to Washington recently protesting these conditions, claiming that hundreds of houses owned by coal companies that have shut down are vacant.

Ground Work of Elevator Strike

What crowds of people work in New York skyscrapers was graphically demonstrated when elevator operators went on strike in the vicinity of Times Square, stranding thousands at the street level. This crowd waited in front of 1385 Broadway for a chance to reach their offices.

Invites World to Great Fair

The alluring smile that welcomes the world to the California Pacific International Exposition is flashed by Senorita Florenz Kelton, chosen as the perfect "poster girl" type to represent the Spanish atmosphere of the fair, which will open in San Diego on May 29. Senorita Kelton is a noted dancer.

Geographical Illusion

All that's needed to complete the South Seas Island effect of this picture would be a Samoa or Tahiti dateline. Actually it was taken at the Breakers in Palm Beach, Fla., with Nan Baker, daughter of the very social register Frank E. Bakers of Philadelphia, exhibiting the barelegs influence in beach costumes.

"... On the Sidewalks of ... Palm Beach"

WHEN HOLLYWOOD BABY HAS PARTY—IT'S SPLURGE,

Hollywood's grownups rarely turned out in such festive splendor and gaiety as did the children of the more noteworthy film luminaries, at the birthday party of 2-year-old Wesley Ruggles, Jr., son of the famous director and the former Arline Judge. Representative of the pageantry and fun on the Ruggles lawn in Los Angeles are the pictures of the three little guests shown here. All recall great names on the screen and behind the scenes. Left to right, they are Irving Thalberg, Jr., son of the famous director and Norma Shearer; Susan Ann Gilbert, daughter of John Gilbert and Virginia Bruce, and Carol Ann Beery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Beery.

Changing Azucar, which hooped name gave such as Good Goods, it to $108,400—the richest purse ever won by a horse—in the Santa Anita Handicap, from a steeplechase to a flat race has parallels in the case of the ill-fated Chase Me and Brown Jack, which was just retired as England's greatest distance runner.

It is the reverse of the usual procedure, however. Many foremost steeplechasers were flat racers of more or less success.

It will be interesting to see how well Azucar returns to his first love in the 1935 Grand National at Aintree. Azucar's young owner, Frederick M. Alger Jr., of Detroit, had the British classic in mind when he paid Joseph E. Widener $8000 for the 7-year-old chestnut gelding last autumn. Alger announces his intention of permitting the Irish horse to compete in both fields.

Azucar probably never would have reached the picturesque plant of the Los Angeles Turf club had not Widener decided to break up his jumping string, and had not Alger taken him out of steeplechasing because of the smallness of the rewards.

Alger had an idea that Azucar, like Chase Me, might prove a useful performer on the flat.

SAGA OF CHASE ME
Chase Me, it will be remembered, was first a family and saddle horse, competing in horse shows down Maryland way, then a performer over brush and through the field, and on occasions a steeplechaser.

Up until this time Chase Me was trained by his owner, Mrs. John Bosley Jr., and her daughters. It was now decided to give him a chance on the flat. He was entered in a claiming event. This he won with consummate ease and he knew the claiming races no more.

Packs continued to trail Chase Me. In the late fall of 1933, he won the Bryan and O'Hara Memorial in claiming style. It was his sixth straight victory.

Chase Me won his first start in 1934, and moved into New York to take a shot at the masterful Equiptoise. They met in the Metropolitan Handicap, in which the lovable Chase Me broke his leg, and had to be destroyed. No one ever will know how good he really was. He had matched Equiptoise's every stride.

Incidentally, it was in this event that Equiptoise was disqualified in favor of Mr. Khayyam.

Azucar has fully proved his worth, however. The product of the Old Sod with the Spanish

ORANGE HOPEFUL OF S. A. CAGE VICTORY

Counted out of the titular chase, Santa Ana's cage players help Orange's Concordians bring the Southern California Y. M. C. A. league basketball championship to Orange county by scoring a victory at Ontario tonight.

Orange, Ontario and Alhambra are all tied for the Southland lead, with Santa Ana in fourth position. Santa Ana plays Pomona here next Friday before closing its season at Alhambra March 15. Ed Stephens and Maurice White, forwards; Fred Wiemer or Eric Twist, center; Russell Sullivan and Joe McChesney or Vincent McDonald, guards, will be in the Santa Ana lineup at Ontario.

Trojans, Bruins in FINAL BASKET GAME

LOS ANGELES, March 1.—In their farewell appearance on the home court before going to Corvallis next week end for the Pacific Coast conference championship play-off with Oregon State, University of Southern California's basketball team met U. C. L. A. tonight on the Olympic auditorium court. The Trojans have three previous victories this season over the Bruins by scores of 39-34, 52-22 and 55-22.

Midget Car Pilot Seriously Injured

LOS ANGELES, March 1.—(UP)—"Speedy" Lockwood, midget automobile race driver, was near death today suffering from a broken back and neck after a crash in a race last night.

The accident occurred when the front wheel of Lockwood's car ran upon the back wheel of another machine. Lockwood's car turned over, throwing him into the track. The tiny machine pinned him.

ALLISON STARTS BEAR GRID DRILL MONDAY

BERKELEY, March 1.—California spring football practice gets under way next Monday when the new head coach of the Bears, L. B. ("Stub") Allison, calls together all potential candidates for the 1935 varsity.

Allison expects that his new backfield assistant, Irwin Uteritz, will be on hand to meet the turnout. Uteritz is scheduled to arrive in Berkeley some time this week end, but because he is driving westward from Wisconsin, the exact time of his arrival is indefinite.

Allison plans an innovation in spring procedure. The last 10 days or so of the practice period, which ends March 28, will be spent indoors in the California gymnasium, with all work to be done in the early evening. This will permit all football men who are engaged in spring sports to carry on both activities during this period.

About 75 men are expected to participate in the practice, during which all of the groundwork for the Bears' 1935 offensive plans will be laid.

RUTH PREPARES TO DEPART FOR BRAVES' CAMP

BOSTON, March 1.—(UP)—Whether Babe Ruth becomes manager of the Boston Braves after the 1935 season is up to the Babe himself.

In the final analysis, it appears that Babe will have to make good to get the job.

If he does, he will become active field manager after the coming campaign, and Bill McKechnie, present Braves' pilot and recognized as one of baseball's most astute managers, can, "if he so elects," step into a higher executive role.

That was the situation today as baseball's immortal slugger prepared to join the Braves at their St. Petersburg spring training camp.

Gets Thunderous Welcome

This clarification of the poignant question of how the Braves could accommodate the canny McKechnie and Ruth, with his irrepressible managerial ambitions, was made at a testimonial dinner to the Babe last night after he arrived from New York to receive a thunderous "welcome home" and sign his three-year contract as second vice president.

It is noted to confirm Ruth's statement in New York earlier in the week that he had a "definite agreement" with the Braves that he would become manager in 1936, after one year as McKechnie's assistant.

There is clearly a difference of opinion, however, among the two highest Braves' executives on the fulfillment of Ruth's managerial ambitions.

Says Ruth Has Choice

Without qualifying his remarks, Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the club, maintains that Ruth, if he chooses, can be manager in 1936 and 1937. "Babe has a choice of being manager for 1936 and 1937," Judge Fuchs said, "and I have kept faith with Bill McKechnie."

Vice President Charles Francis Adams, stockholder of the Braves to the tune of a reported $400,000, shares the same view, but with strong reservations.

In a straight-from-the-shoulder statement, Adams said, in effect, that Ruth would have to make good before becoming manager, and that, if and when the Babe takes over the managerial reins, McKechnie can take over the management of all Adams' interests in the club.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

MARYSVILLE.—The Mission Reds today added a new pitcher, a left-handed Portland, Ore., pitcher, to the training camp squad. Hollis Thurston, veteran moundman, and Clyde Beck, shortstop, have reported although they have not signed contracts.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Training camp activities for the San Francisco Seals will speed up tomorrow when the regular infielders and outfielders report. After several days on the home field, the entire squad will move on to Fresno for final preparations.

MODESTO.—Young Ed Walsh, son of the former White Sox hurler, was one of the most enthusiastic workmen in the training camp of the Oakland team today. Last night he didn't show up at the camp until near the end but this year, having turned over a new leaf and determined to get back into the majors, the big pitcher was one of the first on deck.

AVALON.—Welcoming ceremonies over the Chicago Cubs today opened spring training with Manager Charlie Grimm in charge.

PASADENA.—The Chicago White Sox were to arrive here today for several weeks of spring practice.

SAN BERNARDINO.—Manager "Ed" Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates today began increasing pressure on his pitchers who had been going through "limbering" exercises the first few days of training.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Boston Braves looked for warm weather today and a chance to get some real action in their spring training. A blizzard kept them in their hotel most of yesterday.

TAMPA, Fla.—Outfielder Sam Byrd and Pitcher Leroy Herman were eligible today for their first workouts with the Cincinnati Reds. They signed 1935 contracts last night.

SET FOR SPEED TEST

15 DONS, FOUR SAINTS TO RUN AT LONG BEACH

Fifteen Dons and four Saints will represent Santa Ana jaycee and high school at the annual A. A. U. Relays at Long Beach tomorrow.

Coach Reese Greene has entered the Saints in only one event, the quarter-mile relay. Charles Ryckman, Ed Davis, Tom Matzen and Fred Tienor or Ed Fitzgerald will comprise the team, which was to be picked definitely after further 110-yard trials at Poly field today. Dick DeSmet, perhaps the school's fastest sprinter, will not be able to make the trip.

Bill Hawkins has been advised by Coach Greene to remain out of the 120-yard high hurdles. Hawkins has not hit his stride, and has not even run a full flight of highs in competition. He has been running 70 yards in daily drills. At Long Beach he would be competing against a field of 14.8 second hurdlers.

Notified there will be no shuttle relays for the jaycee division, Coach Bill Cook has selected the two best hurdlers of the quartet that represented the Dons at San Diego, and has enrolled Capt. Lucian Wilson in the open highs, and Kenny Vandruft in the novice highs. Vandruft has been beating Wilson the past two weeks, and should do well in the novice event for which Wilson is ineligible.

The Dons, who ran a half-mile relay at San Diego, have been enrolled in the four-man 440 at Long Beach, with Major Anderson, Vernon Koepfel, Lucian Wilson and Frank Boyd each negotiating 110 yards. Koepfel also goes postward in the novice 100.

Other jaycee entries: Distance medley—Ray Cokely, 440; Ray Craft, 880; Joe Frias or Al Clark, 1320; and Rudy Holman, mile. Broad jump—Al Parr and Ray Sides. Pole vault—Loren Lukens. High jump—Frank Kroener, Discus—Walt Gunther. Javelin—Harold Pottorf. Shot put—Kroener.

Nearly 1000 athletes from two universities, eight colleges, ten or twelve junior colleges, approximately forty high school and several athletic clubs will invade Stephens field for the Long Beach Relays.

CROMWELL NAMES 53 TROJAN ENTRIES
LOS ANGELES, March 1.—Full strength of the University of Southern California track and field team will be revealed tomorrow when Coach Dean Cromwell opens relays and bid for most of the field event titles in the annual Long Beach Relays.

Fifty-three Southern Californians were named as S. C. entries today by Coach Cromwell. Because he believes that distance men should not run their full distances early in the season, the Trojan coach put most of his long-winded boys in the four-man two-mile relay and entered his half-milers in the mile relay.

Fourteen prospects have checked out baseball equipment at Santa Ana junior college, with organized practice slated to begin next week under Coach Blanchard Beatty.

Yoshida Yoshiki and Charles Iehi, from Sweetwater, are among the newcomers. Letterman Ben Slavin, hard-hitting outfielder, and Jack Dugan, Orange pitcher, have not reported.

Gaylord Colle, red-headed first baseman from Wichita, Kansas; Clyde Bledsoe, letterman who hit better than .350 last season; Dick Moore, Huntington Beach infielder; Tom Lacy and Fred Erdhaus, shortstop and pitcher from Santa Ana high school; Bob Brown and Lou Madden, '34 reserves; Gil Yorba, Harry Owings, Cliff Lee, Allan Mackay and Francis Davis are those who have checked out suits.

Limbering-up exercises comprised drill at Poly field this week.

GAR WOOD RETAINS TROPHY BY FORFEIT
DETROIT, March 1.—(UP)—Gad Wood went unchallenged for the Harmsworth speedboat trophy this year and at midnight, deadline for announcement of challenges, Lee Barrett, secretary of the Yachtman's Association of America, telegraphed Wood: "No Harmsworth challenges received. Congratulations to you for assurance that you will be holder of the trophy for another year."

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Mar. 1.—Brutus Hamilton, California track coach, has been asked to lend two of his brightest stars, Sprinter George Anderson and Two-Miler Bob Fowler, to the Stanford benefit meet to be held here March 9.

Sponsors of the event, which will advance the opening of the Tule season by two weeks, hope to match Anderson against the highly acclaimed Jimmy Kneubuhl of the Card freshman squad, as well as the improving varsity sprinter, Chuck Voight.

Fowler, if he competes, will run against Norman Bright, Stanford's ineligible graduate student, whom "Dink" Templeton claims is a hope for the 5000-meter race in the next Olympics.

Ed Waterbury, former California javelin star, will also be asked to enter and repeat the spear-tossing duel which he staged here with Johnny Mottram last year.

Weight prospects for the Indian team took an upturn this week as three men surpassed their best previous marks. Reynolds hurled the shot 49 feet 7 inches; Phil Levy rang up a distance of 158 feet in the discus, and Jack King, his running mate, made 150.

Stars Get Ray Smith In Deal For Ed Daley

On the eve of another momentous National Night Ball league meeting, Santa Ana's Stars today announced the trade of First Baseman Ed Daley to the Westminster Aviators for Ray ("Doc") Smith, one of the outstanding utility players in the game.

The Daley-Smith transaction was even-up, Santa Ana refusing to part with "Chub" Sears, young outfielder, in the exchange.

Daley was anxious to get away from Santa Ana, and Smith was glad to leave Westminster, so the trade should benefit all parties concerned.

Superficially, Santa Ana got the better of the deal. Smith, dividing his time between second base and the outfield, batted .363 for Westminster last year. Daley slumped off to .205. In fairness to Daley, it can be said that this was the player's poorest batting average since he joined the Stars five years ago. In 1933, Daley hit .348 to Smith's .342. Smith was not in the league in '32 when Daley averaged .286 here.

No official averages are available before 1932 but Daley always crowded the .300 figure, and has been an extremely valuable player for the Santa Ana club, reaching the heights in '31 when almost single-handed he won the inter-league playoff series from Anaheim. Daley rapped several home runs in that thrilling conflict, each coming at critical times late in the games.

Peterkin has explained that he "no longer had the proper enthusiasm" for the task of managing the nocturnal wheel.

Vic Baden of Orange, Bill Curant of Huntington Beach, "Rube" Ellis of Whittier and Bill Cole of Santa Ana have been mentioned as possible presidential timbers.

The meeting is called for 7:15. It is expected to prove a peaceful and to the stormy but phenomenally successful reign of President Peterkin.

Country Club Golfers To Make 'Last Stand'

Down but not quite out, Santa Ana's slipping golf team makes a "last stand" tomorrow and Sunday in an effort to save the Southern California championship it won without defeat last year.

Trailing the field in Group 7 of the Southern California Golf association's inter-club series, the Santa Anans take on San Diego Saturday and Coronado Sunday, the matches being scheduled over the country club course here. Both start at 1 p. m. San Diego goes to San Gabriel Saturday. Coronado plays there Sunday.

San Diego is leading the race with 37 points. Coronado is second with 32. San Gabriel, a potential winner, has 31-1-2 and Santa Ana, 25-1-2. In other divisions, the leaders are Bel-Air, Fox Hills, Virginia, California, Oakmont and Victoria. Champions of each group clash later for the coveted Southland title now in Santa Ana's possession.

Santa Ana must meet San Diego without Dick Ewert, its club champion. Ewert will be available Sunday, however.

Nan Mead and Mrs. L. H. Robinson won a load-and-lift tournament for women at the country club yesterday. Miss Mead had 111-27-84 and Mrs. Robinson 89-8-81. Their aggregate was 200-35-165.

Other winners: Mrs. Don Andrews, 97-16-81, and Mrs. Osman Pizley, 99-15-84, for a total of 196-31-155; Miss La Pomeroy, 95-17-83, and Mrs. C. V. Doty, 101-12-89, aggregated 196-29-167.

BRITISH PILOT TRIES FOR 300 MILES AN HOUR

By HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 1.—Riding the wings of a nor'easter blow that whipped the seas to fury and sent long combers rolling in to break and break again, March came to Daytona Beach today and threw down the gauntlet to Sir Malcolm Campbell.

"Give us one or two more days," the winds seemed to howl, "and you'll have your speedway, your silver ribbon of death. I'll take the sands, and I'll pound 'em smooth. I'll give you a highway on which to give Bluebird her head."

Studies Sandy Course
Sir Malcolm answered the challenge. Just before midnight, when the wind was talking its loudest, the little British speed king slid behind the wheel of a fast roadster, and rode the beach. He studied it from the point north where he yells "contact and goodbye," to the southward tip, 11 miles away, where he pulls Bluebird up and circles round for the run to home.

At the finish he was all but seasick. He told his mechanics to prepare the big blue juggernaut which carries 2500-horsepower and a maximum of 335 miles an hour, under its bonnet. He asked city officials to flag the course, set the timing traps, explaining that while another day likely would be required to whip the beach into racing state, there was a bare chance the wind and waves might finish ahead of schedule.

The mechanics reported the $200,000 machine fit. Officials said the course would be flagged and trapped. And so, if nature does finish ahead of schedule, Campbell will ride today. And if not today, then tomorrow or Sunday, for the beach is swiftly reaching perfection.

Wind May Change Plans
Of course, a shift in the wind might upset Campbell's hopes, but this isn't likely, for weather reports call for another day of blowing.

Campbell didn't find the racing strip entirely satisfactory last night. There were still rough, wet patches in the measured mile, the toughest and most important bit of the course, and there were still a few gullies and depressions scattered along the 11-mile runway.

But even Sir Malcolm, a pessimist of the first water, was pleased with the amazing improvement of the wind of the past 36 hours had achieved. Tuesday the beach was a depressing series of bumps, sloughs, cement-like ribs, treacherous coquina sand and shallow puddles. To drive a passenger car over it at a speed above 35 miles an hour was dangerous. Today, most of the faults were gone, eliminated by the severe but healing hand of nature.

REYNOLDS TO COACH KNOX GRID PLAYERS
CHICAGO, March 1.—(UP)—Knox college, the "good old St. Wash" of Galesburg, Ill., which hasn't won a football game since 1931, took the word of C. W. O. (Pete) Reynolds today that maybe things would be different in the bye and bye.

Reynolds, appointed head coach yesterday to succeed Lloyd Burdick, resigned, has been everything from assistant mentor at Hobart to a scout for the gaudily dressed football teams with which "Chick" Meehan dazzled opponents in the opulent days of New York university.

Chosen from among 200 applicants, he faces the task of leading Knox from its football wilderness of 27 consecutive defeats.

OXY NEAR CAGE TITLE
LOS ANGELES, March 1.—(UP)—Occidental college, with the Southern California conference basketball title clinched if it wins both games, meets San Diego State in San Diego tonight and tomorrow. La Verne plays Whittier at Whittier tonight, and on the home court tomorrow. Santa Barbara will meet Redlands at Redlands tomorrow.

POSITION OF RUSSIA TOPIC OF DR. COONS

Speaking on "Russia's Position in the Far East" Wednesday evening on church night program of First Methodist church, Dr. Arthur G. Coons of Occidental college, expressed the conviction that Russia does not need nor does she want more land, but quoted Stalin to the effect that Russia would defend every inch of land that she now has.

Russia has been steadily pursuing the policy of developing her resources in recent years, seeking

Industrial and commercial independence, he said.

Dr. Coons related the historical background of the many events that have contributed to the present situation in the Far East, particularly as they affected Russia, China and Japan. The Chinese Eastern railway, which was built by Russia on Chinese territory has always been a potent source of trouble, he said. "This territory having now come under the jurisdiction of Japan through recent developments in Manchuria has further complicated the situation. There is cause for a feeling of relief, however, in the fact that Russia appears to have about completed negotiations for the sale of the railway to Japan," he continued.

"Russian international policies have been stiffening since 1932, encouraged by the success of the first five-year plan and American recognition. Japan sees the development in Russia and does not like the idea of the increase in Russia's strategic position. Japan

Stories in STAMPS

FOUR HUNDRED years ago, Father Jose de Anchieta, a young Portuguese missionary, ventured among the savage Indians of Brazil and within a year made them his most devoted followers.

Once, when the Tamoyo Indians attacked the Portuguese immigrants, Father Anchieta induced the invaders to come to terms with the Europeans and accept him as a human bond to guarantee the faith of his countrymen. For three years they kept him hostage, until the Portuguese had fulfilled their pledge.

Today this missionary, now St. Anchieta, is known as "The Apostle of Brazil," or "The Apostle of the New World." Brazil has just honored him with a commemorative stamp issue of four values.

NEXT: What stamps did the Span use to get out the vote in its recent elections?

is making efforts to offset this by increasing her influence in northern China. Russia has found that China cannot be depended upon as an effective ally partly due to the fact that China is resisting the advance of Communism and does not want too close relationship with the Soviet government. Hence, Russia seems determined to release her interests in Manchuria and avoid conflict there.

The speaker expressed the conviction that if trouble comes between Russia and Japan it will be mainly due to fear of Russia and hot-headedness on the part of Japanese leadership. As for America, our interests there are not so tremendous as to involve any problem of self-defense. Either a policy assuming responsibility for international relationships outside of our own country, or the opposite policy of complete isolation will eventually lead us into war, he said, and quoted the statement that "It is as possible to win a war as it is to win against an earthquake."

"In international affairs, America must move toward the idealism of co-operation, through the exercise of the agencies of diplomacy," the speaker concluded. There was an attendance of some 400 persons at the dinner where this assembly address was delivered.

In her class on "Trends in Education," Mrs. Jennie Tessmann dealt with "The Predicament of Youth." Mrs. Tessmann related how rugged individualism, the beautiful dream of our pioneers, had proven to be a bitter disappointment. "The market is choked with capital, accumulated through the exploitation of huge masses of the people," she said. "We have allowed the emotionalism of reason, and the doctrine is still being defended by the few who have managed to surmount in the struggle. The young people of America are still grasping at the last shreds of it, encouraged as they are by the tendency of our schools to emphasize material success as an ideal."

Mrs. Tessmann referred to individualism as another nice dream. "But we have neglected to teach our people how to live in groups," she continued. "We have a great number of individuals who haven't learned how to live together. Our militant minorities are made up of these individuals who fail to move unitedly. There is no longer any frontier for such people to withdraw to and they must learn the art of cooperative living."

Mrs. Tessmann also referred to the problem confronting the youth of today through the high standard of living into which they were born. Luxuries have been taken for granted as the result of the extravagant period from 1919 to 1929, she said. It has been hard enough for those who had started to live without all modern conveniences and comforts to go back to simpler modes of living, but for the youth who never experienced anything but near luxury, the experience has been even worse than going to a foreign country. The situation calls for sympathetic treatment and understanding of the predicament into which we have forced our young people if we are to help them solve their problems, she concluded.

J. F. Burke dealt with the question "What Is The Message Science, Medicine, Invention, Sanitation and Population Growth and Shifting have for Society?" as part of his general course in "Social Trends," and gave his audience a convincing mass of information leading to the conclusion that we are moving into a new day with challenging possibilities.

As part of the course in "Religious Trends," Dr. George A. Warner had as his subject, "Catholicism Becomes More Realistic." Next week his subject will be "The Submergence of Denominationalism."

Turning from Far Eastern problems to the more domestic field, Dr. Coons' assembly address next week will be "Is Inflation Inevitable?" Burke will discuss "Is the Real Solution of Society's Problem Being Met Through the 'New Deal' With Law Looking Toward Aid Like Old Age Insurance, or Must We Have a 'New Order'?"

S. A. Council P.-T. A. Celebrates Founders Day

MANY WOMEN ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER AFFAIR

One of the outstanding events of the year's activities of the Santa Ana Council of Parents and Teachers was the second annual Founder's Day luncheon held yesterday in the Green Cat cafe with 135 present for the affair.

Luncheon was served at tables attractively decorated with the P.-T. A. colors of blue and gold. The large wooden plaque from Wilson school and several posters adorned the walls, while a huge birthday cake decorated in blue and gold centered the guest table.

In the receiving line to greet guests were Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, council president, Mrs. W. T. Kirven, fourth district president, and all local association presidents.

Mrs. Walter Fine, district spiritual training chairman, gave the invocation, after which Mrs. Crawford gave the greeting. Response was made by Mrs. O. M. Robertson, of Riverside, state recording secretary.

Guests introduced by Mrs. Crawford included Mrs. C. H. Turner, state president, Mrs. J. F. Hoadley, Riverside, twenty-third district president; Mrs. A. B. White, corresponding secretary of the twenty-third district; Mrs. Neil Belsel, state vice president; Mrs. Roy Beall Jr., past council president; Mrs. Golden Weston, of the adult education department; Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools; Arthur Corey, assistant county superintendent; D. K. Hammond, principal of the local high school; Dr. Margaret Baker, member of the school board; Lyle Mitchell, principal of Willard junior high; Mrs. Grace Smiley Lund, vice principal of Willard; Miss Alice Grimshaw, principal of John Muir school; Walter Eggen, principal of Spurgeon school; Miss Mary Andrews, principal of McKinley school; Miss Hazel Maxwell, principal of Edison school and Miss Mildred Mead, principal of Lowell school.

Mrs. A. B. Smith, of Anaheim, who was present at the first Congress of Parents and Teachers held outside of Washington, D. C., and who knew Mrs. Theodore Burney and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, founders of the P.-T. A., was introduced.

Presentation of a life membership from the council was made to Mrs. Walter Fine for her many years of effort and service to the P.-T. A. by Mrs. Mary H. Robertson, who also presented her with a life membership pin.

The impressive candle lighting ceremony was in charge of Mrs. Kirven. The large cake was centered with four candles in blue and yellow, representing the home, state, church and school. Mrs. Carl Edgar, Founder's Day chairman, conducted the processional in which each school president brought an offering.

Mrs. Lorene Croddy Graves presented the Sycamore Singers, a group of young boys, who sang the P.-T. A. song and another number.

An interesting feature of the session was the display of old-fashioned costumes by members of the organization at the meeting. Colorful costumes of the old days made a striking contrast with those of the modern day. Mrs. Malcolm Macurda and her daughter Audrey turned the pages of a huge album, while those taking part in the program were dressed to represent characters in the album.

Mrs. Turner outlined the history of the founders of the national organization who long dreamed of a national organization for mothers to discuss problems of children. She told of the growth of the organization since it was founded in February, 1897.

H. S. Debaters Win Against Speakers
From Local Club

Inauguration of new officers of the club and a debate between a team from the club and from the high school debating team featured a meeting of the El Camello chapter of the Toastmaster club last night.

The question debated was "Resolved, that Japan should be granted equal naval parity with the United States." The negative was upheld by the high school team, composed of Edward Velarde and LaVenne Franson. The affirmative was taken by Toastmasters Ernest Wooster and Ted Blandine.

The high school team was voted winning honors by members of the club who judged the debate, with individual honors going to Miss Franson. The high school debate team is under the direction of Bob Farrar.

Following the debate Don Rice, president of the club, inaugurated new officers. The new officers are Fred Eley, president; Jack Kellerman, vice president; Ralph Livenspire, secretary; Ferris Scott, treasurer, and Bob Farrar, sergeant-at-arms.

Members of the club expressed regret at losing two members, W. L. Jollivette, who is being transferred to Riverside, and George Lawrence, who will assume new duties in San Pedro.

The names of Harold Yost and Roy Coleman were placed on the active membership list.

LARGE CROWD AT CLOSING EAMES RECITAL

BY DODLEY PAGE HARPER

The largest audience in attendance during the series of four lecture-recitals given by Dr. Henry P. Eames on the past four successive Thursdays greeted the speaker last night when he closed his series of lectures with a request program. The subject was "The Music Dramas of the Nibelungen Ring," and the evening was devoted to Richard Wagner and his music dramas.

He began with interesting biographical notes, all of which can probably be found in a recent book recommended by Dr. Eames—"Richard Wagner and his Music Dramas," by Larigac. Writing all his own libretti, Wagner was able to emphasize the dramatic elements in all his works. He followed and developed the ideas of the earlier Gluck. To them the action of the drama was the all-important thing, the story being told in the orchestra.

Wagner cannot be credited with inventing the motif idea but he developed it and made it generally known. To illustrate the Leit Motif or leading motive idea, Dr. Eames played some of the motifs from the Nibelungen drama—Siegfried, Spring, the Rheingold, Valhalla, the Valkyrie, the Sword and Fate.

The "Prayer" from Rienzi, one of Wagner's earliest operas, written when he was about 24, was presented and followed by the Vorspiel (or prelude) from Parsifal to illustrate the growth and development of his power. The prelude, built on three motifs only, bringing out all the religious mysticism, fervor and ecstasy of the Knights of the Holy Grail, served as an excellent means of illustrating the use and development of the motif idea. In composing the Ring, Wagner first wrote Siegfried. Feeling that the play needed explanation, he prefaced it with "The Valkyrie," and the third drama, "Götterdämmerung," completed the trilogy. The whole, however, has a prologue, called Rheingold. Taken together, as they should be, they provide a magnificent presentation of the entire Norse saga.

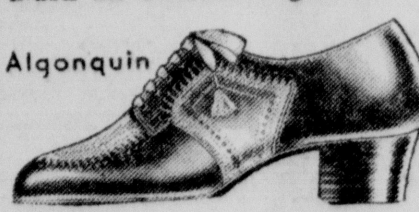

To familiarize his audience with some of the characteristic passages from this music of the Nibelungen, Dr. Eames played the motif for the Curse (on the gold) in a setting of the thunder storm, the Rainbow, over which the gods entered into their new abode, Valhalla, and Siegmund's love song, one of the four songs Wagner ever wrote. Challenging the remark once made that Wagner could not write a melody, Dr. Eames closed the Ring selections with Wotan's Farewell to Brunnhilde, which number combines great poetry, great music and beautiful melody.

The four lectures which Dr. Eames has presented have provided an excellent background in appreciation and those fortunate enough to have been in attendance are indeed indebted to him for broadening their cultural aspect.

Mrs. Golden Weston of the adult education department announces that on next Thursday evening at the Willard auditorium, Mrs. Merritt White will review a number of outstanding new books. The public is invited.

NEW BOOKS
IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

BY VERA RAMSEY

Dr. Halford E. Luccock says, "The competent novelist of any period is an indispensable diagnostician for anyone who would seek to heal the hurt of humanity. We can learn more of the soul of the nineteenth century England from Charles Dickens than from John Henry Newman." In his book "Contemporary American Literature and Religion," he applies this to present day writers.

Perhaps a majority of the writers whom Dr. Luccock here discusses would, if questioned on their attitude toward religion, claim to be either indifferent or against it. Probably a majority of the ministers of religion would, if questioned about the influence of such writers as march through Dr. Luccock's pages, hold that they have been opponents of the religious interpretation of life. Dr. Luccock is the first to show that the man who would really understand the spiritual problems of modern life can do no better than read Sherwood Anderson, Dorothy Canfield, Scott Fitzgerald, Ellen Glasgow and other contemporary writers.

Ministers and others who are interested in social reform cry out at the low tone of literature. They are seemingly oblivious that their criticism is not so much of literature, which is a symptom, as of the life of a generation, which is a cause. The real problem, which this author emphasizes, is not that authors are degenerate and perverse, but that they are voices of their time.

No other critic in America could have written a book comparable to this. It's author had to be first of all, steeped in literature. Second, he had to be equally immersed in the problems of religion. Dr. Luccock had both these qualifications plus the ability to write of his insight in both fields in a fashion able to command attention.

"Negro Americans What Now?" is James Weldon Johnson's outline of a program for his race. Simple, direct, militant, it offers concrete suggestions for the attainment of a concrete end. The American Negro today occupies a bewildering position. Perhaps at no time since the end of the Civil war has he been faced with as many conflicting theories as to how best he may establish his place in the world. Will Communism save him? Should he set up in a separate state within the state? Or migrate en masse to an unsettled land? What can he gain by violence? Above all, must he, as some leaders have suggested, accept the compromise of segregation? Everyone connected with the race problem is struggling with these alternatives.

Johnson's analytic skill cuts the ground from under facile arguments and idealistic dreams. He recognizes that the struggle must be long and bitter. But he is fully confident that the Negro can gain the victory if he learns to draw to the utmost upon his potential resources. The church, the press, fraternal societies, education—these media have not been fully employed. Politics, if it is to aid the Negro, must be divorced from sentimentality, and approached with realistic, completely practical attitude. Finally, the Negro must drop the role imposed on him by a condescending tradition. He must play the part of his own choosing.

This is the message which Johnson gives his followers. There can, in his estimation, be no compromise. However difficult the task, the Negro must set as his end the complete destruction of race discrimination. Johnson marshals his arguments with consummate skill, and his own career suggests the validity of those arguments.

There are rapid and far-reaching changes in the organization of our economic and political life. A contemporary record of those changes with a judgment of trends and of gains and losses is given in "Survey of Contemporary Economics" edited by Norman S. Buck.

From the publication of the New York Times, the author has made selections that give an extraordinarily clear and accurate picture of the economic development in the United States during the past few years. The main headings include nearly every phase of the economic and political organization of our society. The readings from leading writers in these fields have been grouped with care and discrimination.

The student and layman will find material here which has vital bearing on present day problems. Some of it cannot be found in even the most recent formal textbooks on economics. There are contributions from leading economic writers, statesmen and business men of this country and Europe. Norman S. Buck is chairman of the division of economics at Yale university. Because of his wide knowledge of that field he has been able to select from the wealth of material presented him, a selection of readings that gives the reader a delightful but lucid picture of economic history and thought.

A guest at tonight's meeting of the Orange County Historical society at 7:30 o'clock in Bowers Memorial Museum here, will be Miss Nefa Serrano, whose home is in Aliso canyon, several miles east of El Toro. Miss Serrano will be present on the invitation of the society by reason of the fact that one of the papers to be read is one on "The Serrano Family" by Mrs. J. E. Pleasants.

It was pointed out today by Terry Stephenson, president of the society, that Miss Serrano is the granddaughter of Jose Serrano, who, nearly a hundred years ago, was granted the Rancho Los Alisos at El Toro. She was born in an old adobe, now in ruins, at El Toro.

A feature of tonight's meeting will be the showing of several dozen pictures of adobes illustrating a talk by Alfonso Yorba on "The Adobes of San Juan Capistrano Outside the Mission."

The meeting will be open to the public.

Vaughan Williams, Ralph—National Music.

Weiss, E. B.—Keeping Young in Business.

Lawrence Tibbett, world famous opera star and radio artist, will include the song "Left" composed by Clarence Gustlin, Santa Ana pianist and composer, on an early program, according to news received by Gustlin in a letter from the noted baritone.

"Left," the Gustlin composition for a poem by Damon Runyon, has been sung by numerous Santa Ana soloists. It met with popularity when Cecil Fanning used it as a favorite encore number on his concert tours, and M. Witmark and Sons, New York music publishers, then brought it out.

In writing to the composer about the song, Tibbett said: "I will be using the song on the radio very soon. When I do, I'll let you know so that you can listen in. I had never seen the song before and am most grateful that it has been brought to my attention."

"Not only do I think it a good song for radio, but I think it will be an excellent song for next season's concert, and as you know, encores are difficult to get. They are the shock troops of 'getting a program over.'"

Gustlin has known the famous singer for a number of years, their musical studies bringing them together both in California, Tibbett's native state, and in New York City.

Students Make Plans For Engineers' Show

Completing arrangements for the American Association of Engineers' show to be given March 8 at 7:45 p. m. in Willard auditorium, members of the local junior college organization met Wednesday night at the college. Charles Roehmer and Morris Lyon gave a practical demonstration of fluorescence before the club.

The show, which is open to the public, will include demonstrations of fluorescence and ultra-violet light, infra-red rays, the Oscillograph, induced currents, high voltage and high frequency electricity, liquid air, short wave radio sets, and transmission of sound by light.

Edgar Ewing, president of the A. A. E. D. K. Hammond, H. O. Russell, George R. Wells, and William C. Hogoboom, Pacific Coast director of the A. A. E., will give short talks.

The show is under the direction of George Robertson, with H. O. Russell, advisor, supervising.

Invitations have been sent to all Orange county high schools to attend.

Exhibits in the lobby will present architectural machinery and mechanical drawings, and work from the chemistry, physics, geology, surveying and mathematics departments.

Tavern Tattlers
Fredda Sawtelle was elected president of the Tavern Tattlers at a meeting held Thursday noon. Phyllis Hannah is the new vice-president and Ruth Warner, secretary-treasurer.

A trip to the Baltimore hotel on March 8, to see presentations of two plays, has been arranged. T. H. Glenn, advisor, will accompany the group.

New members were voted on. They are Allan Hood, George Robertson, Stanley Wilson, Milford Carman and Eva Bergee.

W. A. A.
Thirty members of the Women's Athletic Association met for a pot-luck supper Wednesday night in the W. A. A. room of the gymnasium. Each member brought an article of furnishing for the room.

A W. A. A. hike which will take place the latter part of March, was announced by Mary Wallace, club president.

The tennis tournament will begin next week in order to select the finals for the playday at Fullerton, March 16. An impromptu hockey team will be organized by Doris Rockwell, to take part in the hockey playday, also at Fullerton, March 16.

Miss Zena Leck, advisor, was present at the meeting.

Hospitality Extended To Include Several Small Children

One of the pleasant parties of recent date was that given by Mrs. Roy King of Costa Mesa as a compliment to Mrs. Harold Leach of West Edinger street, Santa Ana.

Guests were invited for an afternoon of bridge played amidst flowers selected for their delicate colors. Mrs. Leach was presented with the "guest prize," an array of pretty gifts placed by the hostess in the doll carriage of her small daughter, Barbara Irene King, and wheeled by the latter into the room for the honoree.

At the tea hour pretty lunens and flowers were used to adorn the card tables for the serving of a molded jelly and whipped cream dessert with individual cakes iced in pink, blue and white, coffee, candy and nuts.

While Mrs. King's guests were enjoying the bridge contest, five little children who accompanied their mothers, enjoyed their own party as guests of little Miss Barbara Irene. They had their own refreshment table and favors of balloons and other toys.

Mrs. King and her small daughter received as guests, Mrs. Leach and her daughter Patsy, Mrs. Arnold Walker, mother of Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Irene Grebe, mother of the hostess, Mrs. Robert Fuller and baby daughter Virginia, Mrs. Lee Belding, Mrs. Chester Gridley, Mrs. Arthur Morley and daughter Nancy, Mrs. Donald Stearns, Mrs. Floyd Mitchell and daughter Caroline, and Mrs. Jack Hearnden and son Dickie.

Torosa Rebekahs

Wednesday night's meeting of Torosa Rebekah lodge, conducted as usual by Mrs. Dora Morrow, noble grand, had among its various business matters, plans for future social affairs for which the lodge is sponsoring.

On March 12 will be a benefit luncheon and card party in I. O. O. F. hall, with luncheon at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. Gladys Garvin, card party chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Maude Lentz and Mrs. Jean Tremble. They will select prizes to be awarded for special scores in both 500 and auction bridge.

The next regular lodge meeting in I. O. O. F. hall, scheduled for Wednesday night, March 13, will be followed by a St. Patrick's dance arrangements for which will be in charge of Miss Bessie Potter. Discussion of these plans and the regular lodge work gave place to more social features. Mrs. J. H. Haber, a visiting Rebekah from Minnesota, was introduced. Cards were played under direction of Mrs. Edna Kinsella, and refreshments were served at the conclusion of the evening. Mrs. Morrow was refreshment chairman.

Student Recital

Nearly half a hundred guests assembled Monday evening in the home of Miss Arline Birchard, 2408 Heliotrope Drive, for a recital in which she presented piano pupils in seven grades.

The large living room of the home made a recital hall for the youthful players and their program met with enthusiasm from friends comprising the audience. Miss Birchard awarded certificates to individual pupils ranging from that celebrating her first piano recital, presented little Virginia Wright, 6 years old, to the high school certificate awarded Marvin Penhall, 15 years old. The little girl played five selections from memory, and Marvin Penhall played two Liszt numbers.

Others on the program and receiving certificates were Jane Downing, Joanne Hockaday, Beatrice Baumbach, Eileen Baumbach, Charles Boquist, Barbara Campbell and Dorothy Hill. Several who were to have taken part, were unable to be present because of illness.

Fruit punch and wafers were served at the conclusion of the program.

Native Daughters

Plans for a reception to be given March 25 in K. C. hall, honoring Mrs. Gladys Noce, grand president, were made during a meeting of officers and trustees of Santa Ana Parlor Native Daughters held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Muriel Bray, 2202 Bush street. Members of Placencia Grace parlor No. 342 will join with the local parlor in entertaining.

During a general meeting of Santa Ana parlor held Monday evening in K. C. hall, Mrs. Mattie Edwards and Mrs. Adeline Pleasant, birthday celebrants, were complimented. Both honorees were showered with handkerchiefs. Mrs. Edwards, who is president of the Thimble club, was presented with a pottery urn in appreciation of her leadership and work. Two decorated birthday cakes, were cut and served during a social hour which followed business matters.

Mrs. Margaret Mike, second vice president, conducted the meeting.

Parent-Teachers

Willard

More than a hundred members and friends of Frances Willard P. T. A. assembled Tuesday afternoon in the school library for the program arranged as an observance of Founder's Day.

Mrs. E. H. Elsner, association president, conducted the meeting which opened with flag salute, prayer and community singing as a prelude to the program featuring Mrs. W. T. Kirven, president of Fourth District P. T. A., and other speakers and musical events.

Lorene Graddy Graves presented the "8—more Singers" who sang two numbers. Mrs. David B. Carmichael, program chairman for the day, told some of the things essential to a successful organization and introduced Mrs. L. M. Smith of Anaheim. The latter gave a report of the first National P. T. A. convention ever held out of Washington, and which she had attended 35 years ago.

Mrs. Kirven emphasized "Citizenship and Character Building" in her talk. She also outlined some of the district activities of the current year, including organization of new units and the outlay of money for medical aid, food and clothing for needy students.

A short skit on baking a cake was presented by David Carmichael, Marjorie Calhoun and Lillian Breaux, with Mrs. Elsner assisting in the candle-lighting ceremony.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Elsner introduced several guests, including Mrs. F. H. Heine and Dr. Margaret D. Baker, past presidents of Willard association; Mrs. M. C. Drown, program chairman of the district; Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, president of Santa Ana City Council P. T. A., and the two speakers, Mrs. Kirven and Mrs. Smith. Corsage bouquets were presented to these guests.

Concluding the afternoon, Mrs. Rodney Bacon, vice president, and her social committee, served ice cream and cake.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon

Salad:

1 cup finely shaved cabbage
1 slice pineapple, diced
4 walnut halves, sliced
3 Tbsp. diet mayonnaise
3 thin slices crisp rye bread, dry

Clear tea, no sugar
Galaxy total...280.

TODAY'S RECIPES

One-Dish Luncheon Plate

14 cups diced boiled ham (about 4 thin slices)

1 can asparagus tips
1 small can peas
1 can tomato, cut in strips
1 hard-boiled egg
2 cup rich cream sauce
Salt and pepper to taste
Paprika, buttered crumbs

I can think of a number of occasions when one could use this dish. And here let me say that it isn't confined to ham. You can use left-over chicken or turkey to excellent advantage, or if you like fish, use flaked tuna, chinook salmon, crab meat or shrimp.

Butter a baking dish and arrange first a layer of peas, then ham, then asparagus. Cut eggs lengthwise and arrange with yellow part up, interspersing eggs with strips of pimiento. Smooth the cup of cream sauce over top, cover with paprika, butter crumbs and bake 30 minutes in a medium oven.

Serve with green salad, bran muffins and simple dessert.

The calories total approximately 1700. The dish serves eight.

A Wonderful Spice Cake

2/3 cup butter or substitute
1 cup white sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
1 rounded tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. allspice
1 rounded tsp. soda sifted with
2 scant cups cake flour, twice
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
1 large cup seeded halved dates
1/2 cup brown sugar

Let butter soften in warm bowl. Add sugar and spices and cream until waxy. Add unbeaten egg and whip until fluffy.

Add soda to unsifted cake flour and sift twice. Alternate flour and buttermilk in mixing, whipping
the batter to creamy smoothness.

Butter a shallow pan, about 8
by 10 inches, smooth in batter, and set the halved dates in rows over top of batter. Scatter nuts over all, then the brown sugar.

This is important
The oven temperature must not exceed 300. As soon as the cake has risen cut the heat to 250 to finish making. Press tip of finger against cake, if it springs back the cake is baked.

This delicious cake is perfect for serving with a plain ice cream, or by itself with coffee. A square 1 1/4 inches large has calories totalling 175.

I have made this cake as a spice layer cake, using chopped cooked prunes mixed into the batter and a butter icing to put it together, but as a sheet cake it has the world licked.

Saturday: Hamburger and tomato pie and cranberry-nut pie.

Luncheon Brings Old

Friends Together

Entertaining in their home on Rancho Miguel, El Toro, Misses Jo Daguerre, Grace Daguerre and Mrs. Juanita Daguerre Sidel were hostesses at a 1 o'clock luncheon given recently in compliment to Misses Madeline, Marianna and Caroline Etchemandy of La Crescenta.

Garden flowers were used in table appointments. Parents of the hostesses and guests had been friends for more than 50 years, and Sunday's affair provided a happy reunion for the younger members of the two families.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Calumpit camp and auxiliary, U.
S. W. V., received many special guests Tuesday night at the monthly covered dish dinner in Knights of Columbus hall.

Three long banquet tables were required for serving the group of 150 or more guests. Giant panes and sprays of ferns made an effective decoration for the tables.

Among the special guests were several members of the city council, some of whom were accompanied by their wives, also a past president of the U. S. W. V., auxiliary of Pocatello, Ida. Mrs.
Hattie J. Williams. The list included Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Bruns and daughter Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. William Penn, F. C. Rowland and Earl Lentz.

Al H. Hall, commander of Calumpit camp, introduced the guests,
each of whom gave a short talk.
Musical numbers by the SERA Hill Billies concluded the program, and the remainder of the evening was given over to card games.

APRIL BAZAAR IS PLANNED BY CHURCH GROUP

ORANGE, March 1.—Plans for a bazaar April 11 were made at a meeting of the Loyal Women of the First Christian church Thursday with Mrs. Purl Shell, president, in charge. A covered dish dinner was served at noon to a large group and a birthday cake made by Mrs. Maude Mann was cut in observance of the birthday of the pastor, the Rev. Franklin
H. Minck, and that of Mrs. Martha Stone, who observed her 81st natural day.

Mrs. Shell appointed a number of committees for the bazaar, naming Mrs. M. E. White as chairman of a committee to take care of the sale of potted plants, Mrs.
Grace Deck, in charge of a cake contest for girls and unmarried women, Mrs. C. A. McGill, of fancy work and miscellaneous articles and Mrs. Edd Windolph of the "white elephant" booth.

It was reported that the group has raised $105 on a $200 deficit which they assumed last year.
Miss Hannah Cline and Mrs. Windolph exhibited a number of little frocks they had made from used materials which are to be placed on sale at the bazaar. Mrs.
Carl Allen was welcomed to the group after a recent serious illness.

The pastor, the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, gave a talk on the new church program to be instituted Sunday. Mrs. R. C. Burkett, Mrs.
George Hertler and Mrs. B. M.
Huff were appointed as a committee to welcome members of the congregation Sunday morning.

Mrs. V. D. Johnson was appointed secretary of the group and Mrs. William Mosse assistant secretary.

INTERNATIONAL WELFARE AND TRAFFIC IN LIQUOR DECLARED
TWO GREAT PROBLEMS OF DAY

ORANGE, March 1.—The day is gone when intelligent young men can be sent out to be killed while others stay at home and make money, declared Dr. J. A. Stevenson, national director of social welfare of the board of Christian education of Presbyterian churches at a meeting of the Orange Rotary club Thursday, at the Legion clubhouse.

Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was program chairman. Dr. Stevenson named as the two great problems of the day the traffic in alcohol and international warfare.

"Old men make wars," declared the speaker, "and young men must die as a consequence. All men who make wars should be placed in one company and put in the front trenches to take part in the first action of every war. No man should vote for war if he doesn't go to war. I saw the front trenches at Verdun, and being in those trenches was not at all like sitting in Washington with the government paying for showers and baths."

"Intelligent, socially-minded men and women ought to get busy to organize the world for peace; it has been organized long enough for war. We should seed the mind of the world for a passion for peace. Friendship is needed more than battleships."

Dr. Stevenson declared that existence had been shown with existing problems, the Civil war and America's part in the World war could have been averted. He characterized war as a "bone-headed business" and stated that President McKinley was the authority for the statement that the Spanish-American war could have been avoided. The speaker decried the practice of educating young men to be killed for $30 a month and of paying United States senators $10,000 a year to make war. A man is not a coward if he desires peace among the nations of the earth, he declared.

In discussing the problem of traffic in alcohol, Dr. Stevenson said he believed that local option supported by adequate legislation was the present solution for the control of this problem. He suggested that such legislation might include the confiscation of the car of a drunken driver by the state, sending the driver to jail if he became involved in an accident where another car is damaged.

Dr. Stevenson said that he did not believe that prohibition could be placed in the constitution as an amendment at the present time and that he was of the opinion that if such a proposition was placed before the people now it

ANNUAL PLAY OF SCHOOL SLATED
FOR MARCH 15

ORANGE, March 1.—One of the outstanding events of the year for Orange Union High school students will be the annual opera to be given March 15 in the high school auditorium. "The Bells of Cay-stine" has been chosen for production and it will be given by members of the music department.
About 70 pupils are participating in the event and present plans include elaborate costumes and stage settings.

The musical scores and general supervision is under the direction of Percy Green, head of the music department. There will be 21 musical numbers consisting of solos, quartets and choruses. Girls who will appear in solo parts are Dorothy Plintham, Doris Asher, and Helen Mollica.

The boy soloists will be Charles Armstrong, as the owner of the Ortega ranch; Weldon Dillingham,
Melvin Hager, the Indian lover, Clarence Borchard and Dick Har-bottle. Costumes depicting the latter part of the nineteenth century are being selected by Phyllis Lucy Keyes, music teacher, who also has supervision of stage settings. She is being assisted by the students and Mrs. Mae Hampton. The stage properties are being designed and constructed by Dick Stanley, a member of the 1934 graduating class.

All art work and posters are under the supervision of Miss Frances Bell, and publicity by J. W.
Cunningham's business English class.

Members of the cast are Charles Armstrong, Eleanor Kolthorst, Bot-ty Kingsley, Wilma Stanfield, Dorothy Plintham, Bill Jordan, Bill Tritt, Wayne Carlson, Vernon Obarr, Dick Harbottle, Helen Mol-lica, Robert Kreidt, Clarence Borchard, Doris Asher, Melvin Hager and Weldon Dillingham.

Special Lenten Service Set For Wednesday Night

OLIVE, March 1.—St. Paul's Lutheran church will usher in the Lenten season with a special service Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.
The first service will be held in the English language, alternating every other week with the German.
Services will be held every Wednesday evening at the same hour until Holy week.

As the general theme for the Lenten services the Rev. E. H. Kreidt has chosen "The Events of the First Good Friday Forenoon," portraying the suffering of Jesus before Pontius Pilate. Wednesday evening the pastor will speak on "Christ and His Church Before the Judgment Seat of the World." Everyone is cordially invited to join in the services.

Happy ending to "Coffee-Floating"

MRS. HANNA knew all the movie stars—and knew the ones she liked best. It was hard to get her to a picture, unless one of her favorites was playing.

"Listen, Ruth," Mr. Hanna said one morning, "you're the funniest woman in the world. You won't give a movie star a break, unless you like him. But you'll take on any coffee that comes along. Don't you honestly get tired of this floating around from one brand to another? Let's get a coffee that knows how to put on a good performance. I mean Hills Bros. Coffee.

"You like a happy ending on your pictures, and I like a happy ending on my meals. Hills Bros. might cost a penny or so more a pound, but it gives you more flavor and richness. Let's get some today."

YOUR GROCER knows a thing or two

1. This is what I told my grocer: "My husband longs for coffee, but caffeine keeps him awake. And foolishly he insists: 'decaffeinated coffee can't be good!'"

2. So my grocer suggested Kaffee-Hag—100% fine coffee, 97% caffeine-free. "Try it without telling him," he said. "Perk it twice as long as ordinary coffee."

3. The ruse worked! My husband loved the coffee—and how he slept! Look at his million-dollar smile, thanks to Kaffee-Hag's million-dollar flavor.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, March 1. — Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Beardsley were delegates from the Anaheim Calvary Baptist church to the Southern California Baptist missionary chautauqua held at the First Baptist church in Santa Ana Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Anderson, of Los Angeles, were entertained at dinner Sunday in the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. J. L. Mitchell.

The regular meeting of the Monday Afternoon Star club will be held March 4, at 2 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Ann Haster on Orangewood avenue, with Mrs. Alice T. Smith and Mrs. Dorothy Thornburg as co-hostesses.

Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams were Mrs. Thomas E. Flannigan and daughter, Geraldine, of Oakland; Mrs. Mary Upton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Harris, of San Diego.

Dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dolg were Mr. Dolg's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. Eiken, of Santa Ana.

Mrs. Thomas E. Flannigan and daughter, Geraldine, of Oakland, spent Tuesday night in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Williams, enroute home from San Diego. Mr. and Mrs. Williams accompanied them as far as Los Angeles Wednesday.

Mrs. R. R. Rossetol entertained members of the Entre Nous club with a delightful 12:30 o'clock luncheon at her home on West Chapman avenue recently. The table was centered with a bowl of lovely jonquils and blue corn flowers. Mrs. Harry Meyer, who was in charge of the program, read a paper on Denmark. Those present were Mrs. F. P. Rossetol and her houseguest, Mrs. Campbell, of Pittsburgh, Penn., who is spending the winter in La Jolla; Mrs. L. W. Evans, Mrs. Norrel Evans, of Orange; Mrs. R. M. Fay, of Anaheim; Mrs. A. F. Mills, Mrs. Harry Meyer, Mrs. J. A. Williams, Mrs. E. A. Wakeham, Mrs. E. M. Dozier and Mrs. Rossetol.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson attended the funeral of the former's grandfather, Henry Payne, in Los Angeles.

A social evening was enjoyed by members of the American Legion auxiliary recently in the home of Mrs. Lillian Thorpe, East

NATURAL LAXATIVE FOOD WINS NATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Helps Millions to Regular Habits

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is one of the most popular laxative foods in the country today. Millions have found it thoroughly satisfactory for correcting constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

In addition to its popular approval, ALL-BRAN has been accepted by science. Research shows it offers mild "bulk" to aid elimination. Also vitamin B and iron.

The American Medical Association Committee on Foods has granted Kellogg's ALL-BRAN its Seal of Acceptance. This delicious cereal is also approved by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN forms a soft mass which gently clears out the intestinal wastes. More effective than the "bulk" in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down in the body.

Isn't this food better than patent medicines? Unlike cathartics, it remains effective with continued use. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal, if not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. ALL-BRAN is much more satisfactory than part-bran products. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Keep on the Sunny Side of Life

When the coffee is good — it's a friendly world. When the coffee is Schilling — Oh, B-o-o-o-y! Wings of the Morning!

There is a sturdy quality in Schilling Coffee which with reasonable care in making it, will deliver a fragrant full-flavored cup with delicious regularity.

Schilling Coffee

There are two Schilling Coffees. One for percolator. One for drip.

Acacia street, with Mrs. Mae Hall as co-hostess. After an evening of cards prizes were awarded to Mrs. Gladys Liebermann and Mrs. Lillian Thorpe. Refreshments were served on card tables to the following: Mesdames Lena Sheldon, of Pasadena; Bertha Duran and Lenora Rolas, guests; Anna McConnell, Mae McConnell, Gladys Liebermann, Ada Frazier, Mildred Jones, Zella Critton, Olive Estep, Agnes McCullough and daughter, Betty Lee, member of the Junior auxiliary.

Why the great majority chooses

Snow Flakes

They're Oven-Fresh wherever you buy them

The cracker that is oven-fresh, is what you get when you order Snow Flakes.

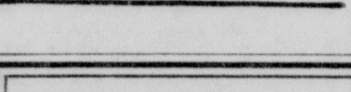

It's gratifying to break a Snow Flake and notice that crisp oven-freshness, that light, tender texture that has built Snow Flake popularity. That oven-freshness is assured because nearby "Uneeda Bakers" bakeries deliver these appetizing crackers directly to your grocer. Their freshness is kept intact by double wax-wrapping until the moment you are ready to use them.

It's most economical to buy Snow Flakes in the large, family-size carton.

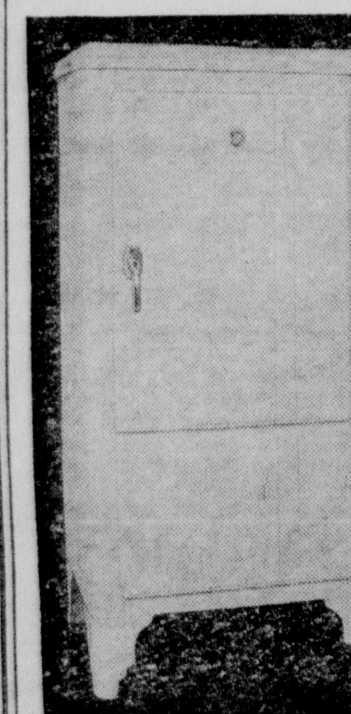

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY "Uneeda Bakers"

"Let's Dance"
Tune in Uneeda Bakers "Let's Dance"! 3 solid hours of real dance music every Saturday night from 9:30 until 12:30 over your National Broadcasting station. Have a party in your home—serve "Uneeda Bakers" crackers, cookies and cakes.

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT... PROVE FOR YOURSELF BY THE THIRTY-DAY TEST

At Pay'n Takit Stores you save—not only on Fridays and Saturdays—but on every day of the week. Pay'n Takit regular prices compare favorably with special prices quoted by others.

Since the average housewife makes a large share of her food purchases during the early part of the week, the prices that are paid from Monday to Friday are vitally important to the food budget. Start now with the first of the month—make a thirty-day test.

See how much you save during the month of March when you do all of your food buying at Pay'n Takit. Prove for yourself that Pay'n Takit prices are lower.

PEOPLE SHOWER GOLD ON SANTA ANITA ORGANIZATION

Shakespeare has Puck say: "What fools these mortals be." And we can almost imagine that Shakespeare must have had his eye upon such places as the Santa Anita race track, in part at least, when he gave forth that utterance.

Literally hundreds of thousands of dollars are gambled away on these races every week. There is little interest in the race itself, except as it vindicates the guess of the person who has put up the bet, or proves to him he has lost his money.

In the old county fair we used to see some horse races. There would be several races in the afternoon and several heats to each race and there was continuous performance.

We became interested in the horses in the first heat, and watched them in succeeding heats to see if they would keep in the same order. But the races themselves cut very little figure at Santa Anita.

The horses slowly approach the pole. It's announced that they are there, then, "They are off." A flash, a minute and a quarter and then comes the announcement of the winner. Then there is milling around for 40 minutes before the next race to give plenty of opportunity for you to put more money on the next race to lose what you have won, if you have won any, or to try to get back what you have lost and maybe lose more.

Some people have such a surplus amount of money that they can lose without seriously affecting themselves. But with others a loss affects their buying along many lines. And even with many moderately well-to-do, the losses in gambling prevent them buying the quasi and the real luxuries many times.

Already we have received word from local business men that they are seriously questioning if losses at Santa Anita by Orange county people have not already affected their sales.

It should be remembered that in the deal the corporation always makes money. The money cannot go in that direction and at the same time go into the coffers of business.

It is interesting to note how this enterprise deliberately, through publicity and news works up the intense zeal of the bettors. They have some of the best news agitators on the job, and the newspapers must carry this kind of "dope" to satisfy its readers.

This is a part of a newspaper's work. But we cannot help closing with the suggestion again that Shakespeare was right and so was Barnum. He said: "One is born every other minute." We are rather surmising that two were born in the minute between.

Gertrude Stein, says a medical journal, has palliagia, verbal perseveration, echolalia or verbiage and Gertrude.

NOW IT IS THE T. V. A. THAT IS CHALLENGED

The injunction granted by Federal Judge Grubb of Birmingham, Alabama, restraining certain cities and towns from buying power from the Tennessee Valley authority, creates another uncertainty which will not be laid until the Supreme Court passes upon it.

The federal government has spent many millions of dollars developing the Tennessee Valley project. If Judge Grubb's injunction holds, it means that the federal government will have an elephant on its hands. Nothing could be done with it save to sell it out at a bargain price to the great utility interests.

According to dispatches from the T. V. A. authorities, the work will continue to go on despite the injunction. Nevertheless, the uncertainty of the future will do much to delay recovery. Should the right of the federal government to engage in business be denied, it would involve many other interests.

Some years ago, a canal was built across Cape Cod in Massachusetts. It saved hours of time, and some dangers, for shipping plying between Boston and New York. It proved to be a losing proposition for its promoters.

A movement started to have the government buy it. It was taken up by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who succeeded in lobbying an appropriation through congress, which was signed by Mr. Coolidge, and now the Cape Cod canal is operated by the government.

Financial interests had no complaint against the government engaging in private business in that case. But the moment the government project threatens some paying private enterprise, there is a hue and cry about government competing with private industry.

The prospects are that the Supreme court is committed to the New Deal measures. But in the event of the confirmation of Judge Grubb's decree by the high court, it is easy to conceive that an amendment to the constitution will immediately be proposed, with every prospect that congress will pass it on to the states, and that the states will ratify it.

The utility interests are engaged in a precarious program. If they win in the courts, it may be nothing but a Pyrrhic victory.

Senator Norris, the redoubtable fighter for Muscle Shoals, will not lie down and see his life work swept away by a court decision. There is little doubt about the final outcome. It is unfortunate that by such methods the recovery from the depression will be delayed.

Niagara Falls is falling apart so fast, young couples will have to get married in a hurry to make the tie binding.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE SENATE

A Washington correspondent of a large city newspaper sends a report to his paper that the senators who voted against the president's public works program received very few protests from their constituents concerning their vote, and intimates that it is a sign of Mr. Roosevelt's waning popularity.

It is hardly to be expected that the first enthusiasm following the accession of the president to his office could be maintained. Then the people were ready for any action after the inaction of the previous administration.

But now two years have gone by. Experiments have been tried, and while something has been achieved, nothing magical has resulted.

The NRA has accomplished something, but not as much as was hoped for. It must be admitted that the cooperation of big business was not very whole-hearted. There was a good deal of "chiseling" which brought the codes into disrepute.

Then, too, the carrying out of certain policies has created friction here and there, which, if it did not mean open opposition, certainly cooled loyalty. Labor has been disappointed. Small business has felt that the big fellow has been helped more than the little fellow.

There have been disappointed political aspirants. There has been the growing feeling among many of the liberals that the president's program was not forward-looking enough.

There is no question but that today realities and not imagination are the determining factor in support and loyalty to the president. The people's continuous support of the administration is dependent upon his attitude with the people and his daring in bringing his ends to pass.

The names of liberals in the administration have lost their power to satisfy liberals in the country that all is well, and of course these names have never had weight to satisfy the needs of the masses. There is no doubt but that there is anxiety among the former devoted followers of the president.

We are confident that that anxiety has not at all reached the point of opposition. And certainly, there is no leadership in congress that has pointed out any more hopeful or helpful way than the president has done.

A college graduate started the new gold rush in California, although what it was in his education that led him to the precious metal is hard to tell.

RUSSIAN NOMENCLATURE SUFFERING SPASMS

To us the Russians seem to have fearful and terrible names. But it seems that they have become more fearful and more puzzling. A correspondent, checking up on some new names which a father had given his children, discovered some of them were contractions commemorating dates in history. For example one lad is lucky to have a simple name: Kim. It might have been pretty terrible for the origin is anything but simple. He was born in 1921, the year the Communist International of Youth was founded. The father took the initial letters in the names of that organization which was the Kommunistichesky International Molodezhi and in that way created the name for the boy. Another child has the name Medara. She was christened in honor of International Women's Day which in Russian is Mezhdunarodny Den Rabonitzy. Odvara, another child, got her name from Osobaya Dalne-Vostochnaya Armia, the Special Far Eastern Army.

If families these days were as large as they used to be, the suggestions from Russia might be helpful to parents in this country.

In days gone by they were sometimes, quite evidently, distraught to find pleasing names for their children.

Spurious Money May Become National Threat

Riverside Enterprise

Counterfeiting is increasing at an alarming rate throughout the United States. Spurious bills in more than usual numbers are in circulation in every large city and are finding their way into small towns.

This is one of the most natural consequences of hard times. When the underworld finds the usual sources of money closed it makes its own. And there are no amateurs in the game.

It behooves the Government and every citizen to break up these counterfeiting rings for an even more important reason than the protection of the relatively few persons who may be directly victimized.

Counterfeiting destroys confidence in the national currency which would cease to be the universal medium of exchange if the public could not depend upon its genuineness and negotiability. Paper money would quickly pass out of circulation if spurious bank notes got into general circulation.

There has been counterfeiting since the invention of the first coin and there always will be fraudulent money making, but official currency designers and engravers have always been able to keep their art sufficiently esoteric that illicit imitations are readily detected even by the observing man on the street.

Five Remains Maximum

New York Times

The wisdom of the ages is once more justified. A set of Ontario quintuplets in the hand turns out to be worth more than a sextuplet combination in the African bush. The latter phenomenon was reported the other day by a New Orleans physician before a group of specialists. But it is now said that the New York papers in 1903 printed the story from Africa with pictures.

Into the discard with the equatorial sextet goes the new race of fifteen-inch human pigmies whose bones were discovered in India. It now seems that they were not discovered but invented. There is a superstition in those parts that bad luck can be averted if you can start a rumor which people will believe. That is a very popular theory in other places than India, and frequently put into practice.

The New Orleans gynecologists who were duly impressed by the African babies and the English scientist who described the pigmy find in India as highly important probably spoke with mental reservations.

Reunion In the Alps

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

PRETTY SOFT

A knife and fork welding machine enables diners to partake of their food without chewing it.

If I feel an aversion to labor
Why bother or worry, indeed?
A barber will come,
Smear my head with bay rum,
Shave my face, and part smoothly my hair.
If I don't care to step 'round the corner
To buy a cigar from a shop,
I make my wants known
On the handiest phone,
And a minion appears on the hop.

Why be harried with troublesome trifles;
Why bother or worry, indeed?
Just keep some one at hand
To obey your command,
And bring everything that you need.
If you keep enough cash in your pockets,
Though your wants be important or small,
You may go on your way,
As day follows day,
Without any trouble at all.

Even dining no more is a hardship;
I can send out a call for my food,
And, while I recline,
I can pleasantly dine
On a meal that is already chewed.
Life need not be hard or disturbing,
It may always be happy and sunny,
And filled with good cheer
Each bright golden year
If one happens to have enough money.

This kind of magazine advertising isn't a new idea. People have always believed the ugliest the smartest.

AMERICANISM: Grumbling because this and that threatens our freedom; asking the President to take the responsibility and decide things for us.

Radio advertising should be effective if you can make sales by talking to prospects as though they were half-wits.

Of course you are smarter than old Dad, and his advice is hokey, but how come he has to provide the spending money?

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLEN FRANK

WHEN UTOPIAS DESCEND FROM THE HILL

Yesterday, I said that even the most impractical Utopias serve a creative purpose in stirring mankind to a quality of action it might never achieve unless the dream of a perfect state lured it on.

Another side to the question of Utopias is this: When a Utopia descends from the shining crest of the far mountain and is put to the test of practical operation, it then must compete on the basis of actually delivering the goods.

If it has been a menace when a dream, it will, if it cannot deliver the goods, cease to be a menace when it becomes an actuality.

This has pertinence to the Russian experiment of Communism. I am inclined to think that the fact of Russia's venture in Communism may prove to have been the best thing that could have happened to the future of Capitalism. Communism either is or is not superior to Capitalism as a way of economic life for the millions. Communism either can or cannot be made to work permanently.

If Communism, by actual test, can give economic well-being, security and self-respect more surely and more dependably than Capitalism can give these boons to the millions, then Communism will succeed. Capitalism the world around as surely as the sun rises in the morning and sets at night.

If Communism cannot, then the future belongs to an economy of private enterprise and political liberty.

My own deep conviction, stated so often in these articles, is that the best interests of the masses will be served by an intelligently modernized capitalism that finds its profit in production for the masses and stabilizes its market by a progressively wider distribution of the national income through its policies respecting wages, hours, prices and profits.

Believing this, as I do, I am glad that Communism is no longer a shining city set on a hill to stir discontent in the hearts of millions, but is down in the valley where it must compete in terms of actual results.

It is now up to Capitalism to modernize itself intelligently and prove in actual results that it can deliver what these alternative systems promise.

NO? NO.

Babies reach for things that they must not have. They lay hold of books and destroy them. They like to tumble things over and over. Destruction is their delight, for a time. Not that they have any such idea. They like the feeling of power it gives them to do something to something. They like the noise and excitement their destructive activities always bring. How are mothers to manage the little one who gives so much trouble?

Just as soon as a baby reaches for something he cannot have you say, "No! No!" in a decided tone, take the reaching hand and fill it with something that is permissible—a ball, a rattle or a toy animal.

If the baby persists say "No, no," in the same tone, with the same decision and tap his hand with a determined forefinger just once.

He will look into your eyes to see what you mean and if he reads there firmness and authority and decision, he will let it go at that, cry a few whimpers, and attend to his own business for a while. Keep repeating this performance again and again until he understands those words and that tone and gesture. Once he gets that idea set in his mind he will give far less trouble.

A great deal of this reaching is his expression of a strong and natural desire to understand the things about him. He cannot see them clearly, with understanding, until he has felt them with his hands. Some things cannot be handled with safety. Some are dangerous, some are precious. An intelligent child can be taught to let things alone that do not concern him by the age of three.

Some take a little longer than others, but most of them have the idea well in mind by that age if they have been trained.

In order to satisfy the child's need for understanding the things about him it is well to take him on excursions about the house. Lift him and carry him so he can see the things above his eye level. Let him touch the things he can touch with safety. Forbid him with the usual "No, no" to handle the things he must not touch. In this way he learns what he needs to know and he is encouraged to understand there are things a is not wise to touch.

The runabout children make the most trouble, especially if this phase of their training has not been attended to on time. They take out the books from the case, pull down the books, bowls and lamps from the tables and generally make things unpleasant for their mothers. If they are given a corner of their own and taught to amuse themselves there with the things that have been given them for their own, a lot of this trouble can be avoided.

Little children ought to have a low drawer or a basket called their own. In this they have a varied collection of odds and ends, balls, large glass marbles, beads, metal rings, wooden blocks, bits of colored materials, a noise making article like a little bell or whistle, a nest of little boxes. Anything that arouses their curiosity and helps them to explore texture, weight, temperature, color, tastes, smell, anything that leads them to make adjustments such as putting the lid on a box, fitting boxes inside others, is good.

A collection like this, changed by removal and addition from time to time will satisfy the child's adventurous spirit and lessen his need for touching everything he sees.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

Thirty-five heads of water running in the ditches of the S. A. V. I. company, and every head used, shows that walnut ranchers are busy giving their orchards irrigation.

William G. McAdoo, whose success in financing, building and operating the Hudson tunnels has attracted much general attention, has been offered the presidency of the Interborough Rapid Transit company and Interborough Metropolitan company of New York.

The board of review of army engineers today reported favorably on the project for the improvement of the lateral channels of Los Angeles harbor, recommending an appropriation of $300,000 for that purpose.

Mrs. Olive Lopez, social editor of the Blade, was hostess last night at a dinner party for members of her Spanish classes.

Here and There

There are approximately 50,000 postoffices in the United States. The peak for postoffices was 1901, when there were 76,945 in the country.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho was first elected to the U. S. Senate in 1907; he has been re-elected five times and his present term expires in 1937.

The Gold Standard Act was adopted in the United States during the first session of the 56th Congress. McKinley signed the bill on March 14, 1900.

It has been estimated that motorists in this country travel 493,000,000 miles daily, or more than 180,000,000,000 miles each year.

All Lombardy poplar trees are males.

The world's tallest trees are the Great Gums or Peppermint Gums of Australia.

More than $800,000 worth of stamps were sold by the philatelic agency of the Postoffice Department in 1933.

The largest spring in the world is Silver Spring, in Florida, navigable by steamers that come up the Ocklawaha river. This spring discharges 1,000,000 gallons every three minutes. Its water is so transparent that a coin is visible on the bottom, 80 feet down.

Although only 25-8 inches in diameter, the largest telephone cables in use in this country contain 2656 wires.
